The Coiled Spring of the Will of God

The will of God is the will to do and to be love in action. The will of God is the energy by which you attain. The will of God is a light that descends and is oncoming into your temple. Will is God-determination. That which you will this day, so you shall be. And therefore, do not use the sessions of your dynamic decrees to withdraw your will but to enhance that will—not to cancel out the Logos as the pure reason, the person of Christ within you, but to enter more into a conscious participation in the mind of Almighty God that interpenetrates a cosmos.

Do you understand that some have taken the dynamic decrees as a form of escape—escape into nonthinking, nonfeeling, suspecting that the recitation of words will be the salvation. It is not the recitation of words but the recitation of the Word. And the implementation of that Word and the dynamic decrees are the greatest assist ever known to that function.

The Coiled Spring of the Will of God

Hail, sons and daughters of light!

I come from Darjeeling. I come with a message of hope, sent by Saint Germain, our noble king, and all whose voices have rung this day around that council table¹ with the meditation upon a great, intense, fiery blue cube of God's will. And that cube of God's will is released to us from the Great Causal Body of the Great Divine Director, even in answer to your call, which you have sent forth for the divine plan unto the decade, unto the nations, unto the centuries.

Most noble knights and ladies of the flame, be seated.

We welcome you into our midst, into the inside of the great circle of our own guru-chela relationship, which spans a cosmos and is a light that, unto us, is worth keeping. And if it be worth keeping in heaven, then it is worth keeping in the earth. And to that end we have set our goal, we have set our mark. And for that purpose we come.

For without the plan, without the preparedness, then in the hour of the great challenge of victory, where is the light? Where is the solution to human revolution and the vanity of rebellion? Well, it is always in the light—the light that is an active light, the light that is an active light, the light that is the light of a Omega, *a Omega within you.

The Judgment of the Dead

I have sent my Word through the messenger this day, and I come now to release a ray of light and of wisdom. It is the hope that is the message of our council. For we see hope because we see the alchemy of God—the rising and the falling of energies within earth as God claims his own, his light, as God demands an atonement, as God is in the midst of his people. For the hour of the judgment of the dead has come. It is prophesied as the fulfillment of the ministry of the two witnesses.²

What is the judgment of the dead? It is the judgment of those who are living who have not accepted the quickening of the Lord Christ within their midst for aeons. And so the dead are known of us. They have not the joy flame or the joy bells of our hope.

The LORD God walks the earth, as the Four and Twenty Elders may enter this planetary sphere because the guru-chela relationship is intact. And thereby there is a ladder that extends from the God Star to the earth, and the angels of God in this hour are the Four and Twenty Elders ascending and descending, keeping the life force of Alpha and Omega.

And therefore the judgment becomes only a great sphere of light—a sphere of light that is placed over each such an individual whose time is come. And therefore, the judgment is ultimately the individual's own freewill choice. For by the acceleration of death, by the acceleration of the energy veil, by the acceleration of the hatred of the light of the Christ and of the messenger of the Christ, which is in the very midst of the earth, therefore that sphere of light that is lowered over the individual then becomes the catalyst for the return of that energy. And it is that energy itself which will ultimately judge the walking dead.

Understand, then, the magnificence of the law of God. Understand that energy itself and the choice to use that energy in God or in darkness become the very terms of the individual's sojourn upon earth or, for that matter, in any world or any evolution whatsoever.

The Restoration of the Imminent Indwelling Light

I come in the light of the will of God to impart to you that light. And I say, let us not study the dead or death or dying, but let us meditate upon life and upon the great ascension and upon the process of the ascension, the very ritual of the righting of light and the consuming of darkness.

Let us meditate upon the inner walk with God. Let us meditate upon that work to which we are called. Let us come together and meditate upon the open door that even now is like the sun breaking through the clouds and shining upon the place where the newborn Christ Child comes forth as the adornment not only of one Son of God but of every Son of God and every child of God who will elect to be that Son. The great miracle of that coming, the great miracle, is this grand gift of God unto all who are a part of him. It is the restoration of the imminent indwelling light.

Therefore we come. We come with our deliberations, our portfolios, our files of research. We come with the report of our communion with the Lords of Karma and the Four and Twenty Elders. We measure, as with a measuring rod within the temple.³ We come for the measuring of the temple where the children of God dwell. We come for to measure the measures of light and darkness—a penny for a measure of wheat or corn or barley,⁴ a penny's worth of light. So measure for measure, the light that has become the fohat, the Great Central Sun Magnet within you, does magnetize to your lifestream the precious energy of the will of God.

Engage Your Mind and Heart into the Spoken Word

The will of God is the will to do and to be love in action. The will of God is the energy by which you attain. The will of God is a light that descends and is oncoming into your temple. Will is God-determination.

That which you will this day, so you shall be. And therefore, do not use the sessions of your dynamic decrees to withdraw your will but to enhance that will—not to cancel out the Logos as the pure reason, the person of Christ within you, but to enter more into a conscious participation in the mind of Almighty God that interpenetrates a cosmos.

Do you understand that some have taken the dynamic decrees as a form of escape—escape into nonthinking, non-feeling, suspecting that the recitation of words will be the salvation. It is not the recitation of words but the recitation of the Word. And the implementation of that Word and the dynamic decrees are the greatest assist ever known to that function.

Understand, then, that even the science of the living God can be abused. And when you let a rote functioning of that science come into your temple, then you are putting yourself outside of the circle of the Word, to which I have bidden your presence this day.

See, then, that you engage your mind and your heart into the spoken Word. Only thus will the words of the dynamic decrees allow you to emerge God-victorious from the temple as the Word incarnate.

The Incorruptible One Is the Remedy

Understand that religion has been an escape for individuals who have fled from God himself for many centuries. They have sought to escape the returning karma by seeking shelter in the cloisters of the Church. Understand that those who would hide their darkness under the mantle of a brother or sister of light, they, then, become opportunists in the midst of the Church. And therefore, the escapism, which is true to their own nature as the tares among the wheat,⁵ has become a label that other fallen ones have placed upon the entire movement of the Spirit of God within the churches.

Beloved ones, the Church is not corrupt. The Church can never be corrupt, for it is the Bride of Christ. It is people within the Church who are corrupt. It is the tares among the wheat. So it is true. The government of God is not corrupt. It is individuals who have failed to be just stewards and overseers within God's government in earth who are corrupt. And when you meditate upon this obvious truth, then you rejoice and feel gratitude for the will of God, as I do, for then you see that the situation is remediable. America is not corrupt. People within America are corrupt. Thus, the situation is remediable.

Thus there is a remedy, and the remedy for corruption is the Incorruptible One—not the forces of corruption and anti-corruption, not evil and anti-evil, not a tug of war, this side and that side and a sudden release and they all fall down. No, it is the Incorruptible One—not a force that opposes evil but a force of light that assimilates the energy veil and repolarizes that light and that energy. The Incorruptible One, who is the Lord and the living Christ within you, therefore is a great central sun.

The nature of incorruptibility is this: that any chemical, any substance, any element may be placed into it, added unto it, and yet it remains the Incorruptible One. And therefore the Incorruptible One, being the highest frequency within the planetary body, becomes an involuting flame, absorbing into itself all unlike itself, transmuting that substance and becoming more and more the Incorruptible One.

This is a lesson in cosmic geometry. To meditate upon geometry is to feel the beauty of God enter the soul, nourish the soul, enliven, enlighten. And does it bring joy? Yes, it brings joy, the supernal joy of the ultimate victory, of the ultimate reunion.

If God be in you, who, then, can be without? If God be within you, then you are in the allness of himself in this hour. God is Almighty God without the universe and within the universe. And the very nature of the indwelling I AM THAT I AM has never been taught as a doctrine by the Great White Brotherhood to exclude the almighty person and principle of God—the only God, the one true God, inhabiting within his holy place.

And therefore, let not the fallen ones seek to confute our prophet. For the prophecy is not her own, but it has rung down the centuries through every polished horn, through every one who is of that golden morn of the release of the mind of the Buddha and of the Christ. What folly to suppose that any messenger is the originator of the message. And thus, what folly, what flattery to attribute to an individual that which has been a part of the universal being of God, the Creator out of whom all creation has sprung.

Release the Coiled Spring of the Will of God

The springing forth of creation is a release of a coiled spring. Now meditate upon the coiled spring of the will of God in your heart. You who lament that you are not always necessarily at the point of the fullness of that will, understand that there is a lever on the spring, and that lever is released by your Christ Self when your soul merges with that Christ Self and the two become the one indissoluble union. Understand, then, that coil upon coil of the will of God within you is ready for the springing forth of your individual creation, added unto and a part of the creation of Almighty God. You were created to be co-creators with him.

Now understand that some are holding that spring coiled, not understanding how to release the lever for the springing forth of the energy, the divine plan, the concept and its out-picturing. Thus I would tell you that sometimes there is a desire to release that lever, but there be walls of concrete that prevent it going forth, that concrete that is a fear—fear to stand naked before God, fear to be only in the light.

And thus, there is a job to be done. It is the destructing of those things which you have erected within your lifestream that are not built upon the will of God. For they stand as impediment, as a heavy atmosphere, and therefore they must be cleared for the penetration of the light. The building up of the will within the heart and the day-by-day constructing of the spring of energy and destructing of the misuse of energy are simultaneous processes.

Thus, you need not wait forever and a day. You need only understand that in the very midst of the rubble that may lie beneath your feet, the rubble of a life not built upon the Rock of Christ, you may, in the very midst of that turbulence and that turmoil, rise to the hill—rise to the hill of life, rise to the hill of your own Christ Self and there, in that union, in that moment, in that hour, release a coiled spring. And do you know what will happen when you release that coiled spring? It will mean the collapse of all that has set itself anti that will.

It takes the science of the spoken Word. It takes a transfer of light and energy. It takes a thrust of the Word itself. When that Word, when that spring, when all chakras are aligned, when all of this comes to pass within your very temple, you will find yourself standing on a par with those who have been of the light who have set their determination to be shepherds of the light—those who have led nations, those who have released ideas into the marts of ideas and music into the souls of the people.

Standing with those geniuses of the ages who have manifested the light, you will understand that you are an integral part of the very genius that they have been and still are. Even as the breath of the Holy Spirit that you breathe has been breathed by every avatar, the same sacred fire breath, the same spiritual molecules that quickened the cells of the body of Jesus Christ, now quicken your own body cells.

Meditate on an engram of light. Meditate upon the coiled spring. And see that the coiled spring in your heart be the unqualified suchness of the diamond of Morya's will and Morya's devotion to God's will. See that the coiled spring be not a coiled spring of rebellion, ready to spring and pounce and to destroy life and to revolt and to bring revolution and destruction of civilization. And where the coiled springs lie in wait, there let the spring of life be greater in the chela because it is the spring of the will of God.

Let them be exposed, I say! Let them be exposed, those who have amassed power to use it against the soul and the light of the children of God upon earth. Let them be exposed, for they are the most unlikely faces in the most unlikely places. Let their masks be torn from them. This is my decree of this morn. Let them be exposed!

I AM God's Will

And let the coiled spring of the will of God released from every sacred heart of every ascended master of the Great White Brotherhood, let the coiled spring of the will of God released from every heart chakra of every chela of the ascended masters of the Great White Brotherhood now be released, now be released in the name of Saint Germain, now be released!

Let the children of the light go free! Let victory be won! Let victory's son be apparent as the faithful and true in your midst.

I AM El Morya. I AM true blue!
