Part 1

Behold, beloved ones, and understand that in the consciousness of God there is no such condition as enmity. Precious ones of the light, enmity is, in one sense, malice. And there is no room in the heart of God for malice. And, therefore, this is always a manifestation of human creation and human consciousness.

Therefore, when men who deem themselves to be enemies of other parts of life attain a spiritual standard (which they one day will), they will cast aside, as an outworn garment, all consciousness of enmity. And in the pure Christ light of their divine identity, they will...

You Have a Responsibility to Accept the Gift God Gives to You

*In Your Acceptance
You Make It Permanent for Yourself*

Part 1

O thou wondrous radiance of the ineffable light and love of God, shed forth thy beams into all human hearts. Let all feel the pulsations of thy Presence and know that the nearness of God is ever at hand, at the very door. Let all know and feel the wonder of thy Being. O thou mighty God Self, thou victory of all life, come and manifest thy flame in the hearts of these thy children. Let them know the truth, that the I AM within them is God.

Most gracious ladies and gentlemen, children of the light, I am come this day in a conscious awareness of the great records which are created at inner levels, recording that history of mankind upon this blessed planet that is now a forgotten epic and is not remembered through the recordings of any form of writing. For these records were destroyed.

Beloved ones, fortunate it is that the Most High God, at inner levels of consciousness—by the power of akasha, by the power of spirituality—has recorded all things so that they may be kept straight. This is so that mankind may understand in time to come how the drama of man's life has unfolded upon the pages of history, raising them into the glorious accomplishment of their own Christ-identity in a golden-age civilization yet not manifest.*

Beloved ones, the record room in the great retreat of the Great White Brotherhood in the Royal Teton Retreat¹ does hold (as most of you know) the magnificent recordings, engraved on spindles of gold, of past golden ages and those wondrous times when mankind drew near to their own heart source and knew and understood, one and all, the wonders of their own identity.

Now, precious ones, man can only long for a reappearance of those times and for a greater time when mankind shall come into the full awareness of the reality of themselves as they truly are and not that false image, that mask which they presently wear that is the outer identity of man, covered as it is with all of the filth accumulated through all the ages and manifesting, at times, a very ugly appearance.

Precious ones of the light, those moviemakers in Hollywood have created a motion picture called The Ugly American.² Well, beloved ones, in a way, it is somewhat a disgrace for [Americans] to be considered ugly. And certainly, in view of the great stature of America, I do not think that anyone would desire to present to mankind a picture of America that is ugly. For America is the land of the free. And it is a glorious land of opportunity for all who will accept the fiat of life and will accept the opportunities which are given to them.

Precious ones of the light, be not concerned by outer matters,[†] but hold your consciousness upon the mighty Presence of Life that is within you, which shall give you that concentration and victory which is your rightful inheritance.

*The master could be referring to golden-age civilizations of the past that no longer exist or to ones yet to manifest.

†Saint Germain was probably referring to loud sirens passing by the Dodge House, where the master was dictating.

Precious ones, as Americans, as citizens of God's own kingdom,³ of the kingdom of heaven, it is your responsibility to do all in your power to put (as we might say) your best foot forward, to do all in your power to express the beauty and holiness of life which is within you. But, blessed ones, if you do your very best for mankind and that is not good enough for some, who choose to criticize you and condemn you when you know within yourself that you are doing your best, do not be concerned.

Remember, precious ones, the Law is just. And the Law will work in perfect harmony with the power of light to bring to all the reality of their divine being. When, then, individuals who criticize you today will stand face to face, in time to come, with the selfsame situations which you encounter, we will see whether they will master them as well as you have. And they will have their day and their opportunity. This, in one sense of the word, was recorded by the prophets of old in such a writing as this: I will bring thy enemies to thy feet that they may see how I have loved thee.⁴

Behold, beloved ones, and understand that in the consciousness of God there is no such condition as enmity. Precious ones of the light, enmity is, in one sense, malice. And there is no room in the heart of God for malice. And, therefore, this is always a manifestation of human creation and human consciousness.

Therefore, when men who deem themselves to be enemies of other parts of life attain a spiritual standard (which they one day will), they will cast aside, as an outworn garment, all consciousness of enmity. And in the pure Christ light of their divine identity, they will take their place in the golden-age civilization, now or in time to come.

The screen of life continually reflects change, and this change is good. Man often wishes for stability. Well, precious ones, I, too, would love to see stability manifest if it were the stability of the divine intent. But when that which manifests is so far less than the perfection of Almighty God, it is a blessing to mankind that there is change and that that change can come for the best and for that which is better for mankind than those conditions which may presently manifest. Rejoice, therefore, in the power to change as the power of opportunity in action.

The beloved Goddess of Justice, my twin flame,* has a focus in my own retreat⁵ but most especially within my own heart. For anchored within me, in my sense of divine freedom, is the power of divine justice manifesting for all life as opportunity [for that time] when life will be able to accept the great pressures of Reality and will repudiate those outer pressures which have kept them bound to a thralldom of the senses for ages and have caused the history of mankind to be a history which, in one sense, may be termed "diabolical."

Beloved ones, the history of God is perfection! And the immortal perfection of the golden ages ought to manifest upon the screen of life in this present hour! I ask you, then, to ask yourself this question: Why does not the perfection of the golden ages manifest in our time? It is simply because individuals have not accepted the Reality en masse. And they insist upon being mimics and copying one another in those outward expressions which have never brought freedom or happiness to one another in times past. And they sometimes scorn the very means whereby men may know the freedom of their own immortality.

Beloved ones, mankind today realize in their outer consciousness that they will one day cease to exist upon the screen of life in the body which they are presently occupying. But they seem to feel that this is some far, distant event and that it will not occur to them immediately and that, therefore, each one of them may postpone the acceptance of spiritual matters and enjoy themselves in all temporal delight.

Well, precious ones of the light, the mankind of earth who are charged with somewhat of an evangelical spirit desire to tell them how short their life is. I prefer today to tell them just how long their life is.

Your life, precious ones, is immortal. And, therefore, do you have any time in an immortal life to cease to enjoy the fruits of immortality? Would you linger in those conditions which are so far from the delight of spiritual attainment? Would you remain longer than is necessary in the shroud which you presently wear? For that is exactly what it is unless it is an ascended body.

Beloved ones, I am certain that you recognize that you who are here today in physical form are not yet wearing the ascension body. And inasmuch as you have not yet attained the victory of your ascension, that body which you have is somewhat of a shroud. For unless it becomes resurrected by the power of the resurrection flame or the ascension flame, it will eventually deteriorate and pass through change.

See? You cannot keep this [temporal] identity. Would it not be well, then, to keep your own divine identity—the flame which God has placed within you—and to see that that flame becomes a part of yourself, wedded to your own personality, so that that changing outer personality no longer reflects the changes of humanity but reflects, in its place, the stability of your own God Self?

Precious ones of the light, I am here today to bring a new sense of freedom to those whose heart's open door is not locked against me. I would not, for the world, either knock on or try to open a single door [when the individual] is not willing to have that door opened or is not willing to receive the instruction from our octave.

But to everyone who is willing, to all who will bow* the knee to their own Divine Presence and will acknowledge that God is the supreme authority for their life, I AM come. And I AM here to tell you that the ascended masters are your friends and that we desire, also, that all men upon earth may realize that we are their friends.

And we stand with you, shoulder to shoulder, to help you overcome outer conditions in the battle of life and to raise not only America as an example to the world but also to raise all nations, so that all nations† might recognize the right that they have to a divine friendship. This will cause them to feel, as they expand their friendship for their mighty I AM Presence, a friendship for all life, which in a like manner expands their friendship for their own Divine Source.

When mankind recognize en masse the beauty and holiness of their own Divine Presence, there will manifest in this civilization and upon this earth the aegis of Almighty God, the power of Almighty God, the victory of Almighty God, and true freedom which no one will be able to gainsay or turn aside. This freedom stems from divine Reality and is not rooted in human creation or human concepts. Because it is immortal freedom, it cannot ever be denied or taken away from those who obtain it.

All gifts and treasures here upon this planet come to you, beloved ones, and remain with you for a time. But they will pass away unless you make them secure by anchoring them within the heart of your own Divine Source. That which you share with mankind and that which you recognize as a gift of

*bow: bend

†nation: a large number of people

God remains in your blessed causal body and is there when you need it to answer your call.

Have you ever thought, beloved ones, how that your own divine identity can answer your call? So frequently you call to beloved Jesus or myself or others of the ascended host for assistance. And we lovingly render it.

But remember, blessed ones, that the day and hour will come when each one of you will make a call to your own mighty I AM Presence and recognize that you, as much as we, are able to invoke from the heart of your divine identity the fullness of all that you require. And then you will know the meaning of the words of the Christ: “For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink. . . . I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.”⁶

You will realize, then, beloved ones, as you find the fullness of your own identity and the power and attributes of your own Source, that you have the greatest gifts to bestow upon your fellowmen. You could give them bread, and [yet] the bottomless pit of their hunger would remain with them. You could give them material substance and they could lose it. For only those gifts which are anchored in the heart of God remain, for all eternity, the boon of each lifestream, the succor of all life in eternity.

Precious ones, the Promised Land sought by the children of Israel was not vested* in mortal soil. Nor was it vested in titles to lands. But it was vested in that City of God—that divine Reality which transcends both physical form and human reason and rises into the great octaves of spiritual substance that interpenetrate this physical sphere and are everywhere omnipresent, sustaining the mortal octaves as they also sustain the immortal octaves.

* vested: invested; now rare or obsolete

Think you, beloved ones, that in our octave we differ from you in a sense of appreciation? Nay, I tell you. Our sense of appreciation of God is intensified by his holy light, so much so that that which we enjoy has the power of the divine mind without the opaqueness of human consciousness to impede the full enjoyment of all which we perceive.

You, therefore, beloved ones, in entering in to the dominion of the Holy City,⁷ will be receiving the power of the resurrection and the life and the immortality of your own God Self. You, then, will be receiving the most precious of gifts. And no man can imagine in his heart, while yet physically embodied, just what it means to have these priceless gifts—the true gift of freedom, the true gift of immortality.

It is well—it is most well—that you contemplate these matters while you are yet here. For in your contemplation, a new firmness takes place within your consciousness. And this firmness stands guard against the intrusion of those outer conditions which would rob you of your immortality unless you stand your guard.
