The History of the Feminine Ray

Consume All Misuses of the Past by the Law of the Violet Flame

Part 2

You have heard of the history of the race of the Amazons.¹ You have heard of Amazonia, the twin flame of Hercules. You have heard of the great glory of the feminine ray, when that golden age was at its height, and then of the decline and the fall of the feminine ray through the presence of tyranny in woman, the emasculating of the divine man by the perversion of the feminine ray.

All of these records and many more come out of the Book of Life from the hand of the Keeper of the Scrolls. These records show that although woman has borne the persecution of the perverted masculine, this is part of the swinging of the pendulum that has returned to woman her own failure to hold on high not only the feminine ray but also the light of the Father principle.

I say, it is time that the rivalry of the sexes, the competition, cease! It is time that the union of love give birth to equality, to opportunity, to forgiveness.

The fallen ones and the Luciferians, who were able to penetrate this sphere after the departure from the consciousness of holy innocence, have taken advantage of the division between man and woman because of their identification and their separation. And thus they have thrust into the consciousness of man and woman—even into the very seed, into the very egg—the wedge of division, the wedge of the carnal mind, the wedge of brutality, of rebellion, of cruelty that has been passed on from generation to generation as man and woman have abandoned the crystalline fires of regeneration that are theirs as they commune with the Holy Spirit.

The energy of God is present in all to rectify all past. Many have said that history cannot be changed, that only the future can be changed. Those who speak thusly know not of the action of the sacred fire that can be projected into the past, the present and the future. This is the energy of the violet flame, which penetrates the layers of akasha to erase, layer by layer, the infamy of departure from the sacred covenants of God and the vows of honor between man and woman, between twin souls and twin flames.

And so, unless the past be transmuted, the future cannot be unstained. Do you see, then, that [the will] to create a new horizon—to be emboldened by the light of promise, the vision of the true feminine, and the hope of the raising of the fires of the feminine ray on the spine—should lead you to the exercise of the sacred fire for the consuming, by the law of forgiveness and the law of the violet flame, of all misuses of the past.

Instead of entering into a consciousness of blame and bane, enter into the consciousness of humility and of victory. Realize that it is not to point the finger, to condemn and to criticize and to say, “It was your fault!” “No, it was your fault!” Instead of all of this—this perpetuation of the strife between husband and wife—there should come the directing of the energy of the spoken Word into the intensification of the fires that melt with a fervent heat all wrong, all discord, all imbalance, all accusation. Would you not be free of all of this? Would you not be free to live in harmony?

Have you become accustomed to the law of discord and of sin and of the din and the dissidence of inharmony projected into the home night and day, day and night, by the Luciferians? Come, then, and be free for a moment from the shock, the burden, the sense of the appalling* that surrounds human injustice, how human injustice defiles the image of the Cosmic Virgin.

I say, then, rise from the consciousness of duality! See yourself as one in the flame—of your twin flame, of your soul mate, or of the one with whom you share the promise of life and love. See yourself not as two but as one. For as one heart, one mind, one hand, one body in Christ you can go forth as a sphere of light, whirling as the sun to consume all of that darkness that assails the divine family and the bringing forth of the Christ consciousness. It is the consuming of all that assails those little ones who are waiting in the wings of life to come forth, who are as cherub faces peeping through the clouds, waiting for the smile of father and of mother in the flame.

See, then, how the record of discord, the record of the betrayal of the feminine ray is so dark, so ancient, and so heavy that even the burden of the tipped axis of the earth bears witness to the bowing down of the Mother.

I say, it is time to come forth and to defend life and the holy purpose of life by espousing that flame, by raising your energies on high and consecrating your centers[†] as chalices of purity and light.

Oxford English Dictionary* cites the word appalling in noun form; obsolete, spelled appaling.

O precious hearts of fire, do not expect to be free from the strife unless you are willing to give voice, to give invocation, to invoke the light of the Elohim to consume these records, for they are everywhere upon the planet. And wherever you determine to raise up the standard of love and devotion and the holy vows of matrimony, you will find that the beasts of prey and the fallen ones—by their very hatred of that feminine ray that must precede the coming of the Christ—will come in to separate, to divide, to tear down, to pierce the sacred love of the Father-Mother God.

Do not forget my words, precious ones. I could, of course, give you more of the history of the feminine ray, but I desire to give you only a glimpse this day so that you might realize that my intent is to say that it is high time that you realize that a position of purity must be defended with your whole heart and soul, with your devotion.

You cannot expect to win where millions have failed over thousands of years. You cannot expect to win without recognizing that in order to win, you must—in the name of the Christ and in the name of the Cosmic Virgin—challenge every spiral, every worm that is coiled, every serpent, every dragon, and the egg and the seed of the dragon.

All of these occupy that astral realm, where the Mother flame was first compromised. And since the compromise is in the third eye, you do not see the Adversary. This is the penalty of having lost the vision. Therefore pray for vision—not to behold the sordid but to be aware of the enemy, to know the enemy, and then to behold the victor that is the Christ.

I say to you, precious hearts, that if you do not overcome these spirals of darkness, there is little hope for those who follow after you. For you are the enlightened of the age. You are the strong and yet the humble. You are those who have put your hand to the plow, who have determined not to look back.

If you, with all of your fervor and with all of the devotion that the masters have given to you, cannot muster the light and the flow to transmute this darkness that threatens here below, do not expect that your children will manifest a greater light. For your children will walk in your own footsteps. Therefore, do not allow yourself to stumble in inharmony. For, you see, you will leave a record of that stumbling, and then you will not be able to condemn those who follow after and stumble where you fell.

I say, precious hearts, the victory is yours. But it must be invoked with a new fervor, a new determination, for the tide of the astral is riding high. It rises now, and it is approaching that high tide when the mass consciousness will attempt to dominate the Christ and when many among mankind will lose all sense of light and victory.

We pray, then, that having seen the challenge and the opportunity, you will understand that there are few who can be counted upon by hierarchy to invoke the flame that will seal the victory of the age.

In the words of Morya, "A word to the wise is sufficient." May it be sufficient to spark within you a determination that will last all the days of your life. For I say, even the angels weary of having to constantly prop up a sagging hope, a sagging ego, and a sagging will.

Therefore be self-starters, self-generators, and do not constantly call upon the Lord to reinforce a vision that you have already been given over and over and over again! It is up to you to keep the flame, to keep up your decrees, to resist not those decrees! They are your armour and your shield.

It is up to you to make the sacrifice and to release, even now, all of your disobedience, all of your strife, all of your argumentation and your self-will into the flame. And if you do, I can say that millions who follow after you will give thanks to God on high forevermore.

I AM the Victory! Are you with me in that Victory? That is the question of the hour. And you alone can and must give voice for the glory of the feminine ray in this age!

"The Summit Lighthouse Sheds Its Radiance o'er All the World to Manifest as Pearls of Wisdom." This previously unpublished dictation by Lady Master Meta was delivered by the Messenger of the Great White Brotherhood Elizabeth Clare Prophet on Wednesday, July 3, 1974, during the July class, Freedom 1974 Conclave, held at Whitworth College, Spokane, Washington. [N.B. Bracketed words have been added for clarity in the written word.] Part 1 of this Pearl of Wisdom is published in this volume, no. 29. (1) The Amazons. In her dictation on December 16, 1962, Amazonia, twin flame of the Elohim Hercules, spoke of "a giant race" of magnificent women who once dwelt in South America when she herself "manifested physically upon this planet." She explained that vicious forces had undermined the freedom of the ancient South American civilization. These "rebellious spirits" were not the creation of God, and it was by contagion that "they spread abroad the poisons of their thoughts and errors." These women "became depraved individuals, using their giant strength to wage destructive warfare even against the opposite sex" (vol. 21, nos. 18, 19). In her dictation on April 13, 1979, Amazonia explained that the women had been "initiates on the path of Hercules and Amazonia" who had fallen from grace and abused the light they had been given. They "went forth into the earth, into all continents, with such a hatred of God the Father which they directed against representatives of the masculine ray. . . . They inflicted tortures and cruelties upon the men of earth, the sons of God" and almost "destroyed the self-identity of man, so great was their viciousness and their atrocities." Amazonia revealed that "those records are being rolled up in a mighty scroll. . . to be put to the torch. . . during this very conference" (The Quest for the Resurrection). She also revealed that these fallen females are in their final incarnation and still have the hatred of the masculine ray.
