Become the Focal Point for the Igniting of the Elemental Kingdom with the Fires of the Resurrection

Part 1

Angels from the mind of God, descend! Blaze the fire of Aries and Thor throughout the mental belt of the planetary body, and let mankind's consciousness soar. Draw into the fiery core, now, the light rays borne as a flame from the heart of Alpha and Omega.

In this hour of mankind's overcoming, of Christ's appearing, of the dawning of the God consciousness, I enlist the aid of legions of angels for the purification of the air element at all levels of consciousness. I invoke the mighty sylphs, and I invoke, in the name of Almighty God, the full-gathered momentum of the violet flame to set these elementals free from the impositions of human density.

As You Are Purified by Elemental Life, So Purify Elemental Life

*Become the Focal Point for the Igniting of the

Part 1

Angels from the mind of God, descend! Blaze the fire of Aries and Thor throughout the mental belt of the planetary body, and let mankind's consciousness soar. Draw into the fiery core, now, the light rays borne as a flame from the heart of Alpha and Omega.

In this hour of mankind's overcoming, of Christ's appearing, of the dawning of the God consciousness, I enlist the aid of legions of angels for the purification of the air element at all levels of consciousness. I invoke the mighty sylphs, and I invoke, in the name of Almighty God, the full-gathered momentum of the violet flame to set these elementals free from the impositions of human density.

O mankind, I speak to you, one and all, in the name of the Cosmic Virgin. I say, cease your pollutions of the air! The time has come when the Lords of Karma have decreed, "Thus far and no farther!" Human discord will no longer be allowed to penetrate the kingdom of the sylphs, and that which is put out in violation of the breath of the Holy Spirit shall be returned to those sending it forth.

I charge and I warn the governments of the nations and all who are responsible for allowing the continuation of the pollution of the air: Take heed that the energies of the Holy Spirit are not to be tampered with. These energies are the very life of the tiny child and of all evolutions, including the plant life upon Terra.

If life as it is destined to be is to continue upon earth, then I say that mankind will have to arise in concerted action to overthrow the oppressors—those in the automobile industries and in all industries that are polluting not only the air but the water and the earth. Mankind have made of this beautiful home star a dumping ground for the refuse of their consciousness.

If mankind were pure in heart and in mind, the elements of earth, air, fire, and water, which are the outpicturing of mankind's consciousness, could not be contaminated in the first place. Mankind would not allow it. How strange it is that the descendants of Eden should be content with a state that is so far removed from paradise.

Precious hearts, when you cannot even see a mile's distance because of the smog and the pollution and you can take this in stride and not be concerned, and when the entire population of a city walks about with masks on their faces and are not concerned and do not protest but go about their way, we look down and we say, "These are indeed the ones of a paradise lost. They have forgotten their heritage. The isle of beauty is so completely removed from their vision that they are content not even with mediocrity but with a base carnality that is untenable to the soul and to the Christ consciousness of each one." Can you imagine that the outer consciousness of mankind is so brainwashed that it accepts this filth, this mire?

Children of the Sun, I AM Aries of the Sun. I AM Aries of the heart of God. I AM the Mother of sylphs, millions and millions of sylphs who serve you daily and hourly. When the fresh breeze blows across the brow at the end of a day of toil, it is the blessing of the sylphs. When the breeze clears the air of unpleasant odor, of the smoke, of the fire, of all impurities of the mind, it is the blessing of the sylphs. It is the breeze that carries the prana of the Holy Spirit so that you might take it in as nourishment through the chakras, as nourishment for the soul. Think what life would be like without the fresh air, distilled in the consciousness of the sylphs and their heavenly prayer.

I say, then, the burden has become overwhelming to these sylphs. And thus we come in this hour of great need to appeal to those who have made their way to this conference. We ask that you dedicate your services, your prayers, your meditations to the beings of the elements, not only to the sylphs but to the gnomes and undines and fiery salamanders.

We ask that you begin to bridge the gap of mankind's unawareness and to make mankind more aware of the spirits of nature. Of late, many of mankind have taken to going into the hills and into the far reaches of the forests and mountains in order to pray as well as to play, for there they have found the freedom of the elementals. Thus together, man and nature pursue the flame of the Divine Mother.

We ask, then, that you use your energies in invocation, as you always do each day, but that you precede and conclude your services with an invocation on behalf of the harmony and freedom of elemental life. For only by a conscious cooperation, a determined effort, and a constancy will there be any possibility of averting that cataclysm that is inevitable when there is a breach, a cavern this deep between the elemental kingdom and the human kingdom.

The power of the sylphs and of all the elementals has been used for both good and for ill upon the planetary body. These precious servants of God in man, of the Christ consciousness, are obedient unto the slightest behest of mankind. They are mimics, precious hearts. They do not care to reserve for themselves the free will that man has, but they would rather be obedient to each beck and call of the Christ within. And so with the fall of man and the fall of his consciousness, the elementals, too, began to take on the ways of mankind's fallen consciousness. As man is burdened by his sin, so that sin has become an enormous burden to elemental life.

Mankind himself is responsible for the wind, for the holocaust,* for the tornado and the hurricane, for the storms at sea, for the hail and the ice and the snow. Mankind think that these are all acts of God, but they are the actions of mankind. And when the actions of discord are sent forth, the reaction must return to the doorstep of the one sending it forth. Thus mankind have sown the wind, and they reap the whirlwind.

There have been some among mankind—sorcerers and sorcerers' apprentices, witches, warlocks, black magicians, demons with their demonology—who have also used and employed elemental life to do their bidding. Those who have pursued the black arts upon the planetary body, who have learned the science of engrams and of projecting curses (with all manner of formations in their misuse of the sacred fire), have learned that because the elementals are the obedient servants of mankind, they can also be enticed into the service of the black magicians. And thus many seeming miracles, seeming phenomena performed by those who are not of the light but are of the darkness, are performed dutifully by elementals who are imprisoned in a matrix or a pattern of darkness from which they cannot escape.

You may wonder how the fires can ravage the forests of the world—uncontrolled, untamed, and beyond the control of man. Have you thought of those who, in secret places you know not of, have sent forth their patterns of suppression upon the fiery salamanders?

It is the fiery salamanders who are then programmed to go forth and to do the destructivity that they are bidden to do by those who are envious of the children of the light—envious of their joy in the Father's kingdom, in the footstool kingdom. And thus they would wield power over other men through the control of the weather, through the control of the elemental beings.

Precious hearts, the fiery salamanders are tall and majestic, scintillating in the rainbow fires of the Most High God. At this moment, fiery salamanders, who are free in the freedom of God's consciousness, are entering this room. They come at the behest of Oromasis and Diana so that you might feel the fiery determination of those who are free in the fire element.

The fiery salamanders serve mankind by consuming, on contact, the debris not only of the physical plane but also of the emotional, mental, and etheric planes. Fire is the only means whereby the atoms and the electrons can be free of the density that man has imposed upon them, sending that density forth to the Great Central Sun to be repolarized with perfection and to be used again in the grand creation, in the symphony of the centuries.

I have asked these fiery salamanders to stand in your midst for the cleansing action. And if you feel the intensity of the fire, then know that as they stand in your midst transmutation is occurring, which is the heat—the heat that is the by-product of transmutation. And when transmutation is fulfilled in you, then you will experience this fire as a coolness, the coolness of the Great Central Sun Magnet.

Now joining the fiery salamanders, interspersing themselves among them, are the sylphs of the kingdom of the air. They come to lend air to the fire so that the fire might blaze before you, blaze in the full potency of the Holy Spirit, blaze in the action of the seven rays and the five secret rays.

Thus sylphs and salamanders working together form a spiral of the Alpha to Omega, and they are now in pairs. Two by two they come into your midst, and you feel the balance of the Alpha-Omega spiral.

And now I ask the salamanders and the sylphs to penetrate the etheric and the mental bodies of each one, to repolarize, to consume the debris, and to balance the threefold flame within these lower vehicles.
