

Beloved Archangel Gabriel

The Annunciation of the Rebirth of the Christ

At a point on Terra, every moment, there is the first ray of the dawn for someone. It is the dawn of the Christ within the heart. And for someone there is always the setting of the sun as the acceleration into the white-fire core of being.

Thus the dawn, the sunrise, is for your Christ-mastery of the seven rays, and the sunset is for the going within to the five secret rays. Chamber by chamber, you cross the cosmic highway. Chamber by chamber, you receive the initiations of the heartbeat of God.

And thus life is cyclic. There is the hour to be born in Mater. There is the hour to be born in Spirit. And the movement of the cycles is that God might be formed and reformed within you, until the permanent atom of the Self is the ennoblement of the soul and its everlasting gladness in the kingdom of our God.

The Annunciation of the Rebirth of the Christ

Heart friends of old, I come to you in the hour when the angels of my bands are already preparing for the dawn in the New Jerusalem, angels of the dawn who descend with the sacred fire of the sun.

At a point on Terra, every moment, there is the first ray of the dawn for someone. It is the dawn of the Christ within the heart. And for someone there is always the setting of the sun as the acceleration into the white-fire core of being.

Thus the dawn, the sunrise, is for your Christ-mastery of the seven rays, and the sunset is for the going within to the five secret rays. Chamber by chamber, you cross the cosmic highway. Chamber by chamber, you receive the initiations of the heartbeat of God.

And thus life is cyclic. There is the hour to be born in Mater. There is the hour to be born in Spirit. And the movement of the cycles is that God might be formed and reformed within you, until the permanent atom of the Self is the ennoblement of the soul and its everlasting gladness in the kingdom of our God.

I stand before you in the full glory of the Central Sun radiance. I stand before you in the crystal light of ascension's flame. And I have stood with you to bring you to that place where you also could renew your sacred vows.

The Annunciation of the Reconsecration of Your Inner Vow to Your Own Beloved Twin Flame

Now as I come to be the catalyst to extract from each one the fears and the doubts that keep you from the path of your ascension, I come for the annunciation of the reconsecration of your inner vow to your own beloved twin flame. Next unto your vow to the Almighty, this is a vow, beloved, that you must surely keep. It is a vow to be whole in God. It is a vow to love one another from the sunrise unto the sunset, for days upon days unto the eternal day.

All sin—all violations of love that occur on earth in every form, whether as hatred or mild dislike or fear or deception or self-pity—is the sin against love. This activity, beloved ones, is the breaking of the vow with one's own twin flame. And the breaking of the vow drives asunder the twain, and therefore one is on one side of the galaxy and one on the other, with only the longing for the return to love and yet not yet giving the fullness of that love that is so necessary for wholeness.

The vow to God is obedience, oneness, and to be the Word incarnate. By love and only love, that love is God's gift unto twin flames to share across the expanse of eternity.

I AM Gabriel. I come with the annunciation of each step on the path of your initiation. To stand before the Central Sun with me is my desire for you this night, and God has allowed me to draw you into my heart, one and all, even the skeptic in your midst. For if one will stay in the sacred fire, if one will stay at Summit University, then one must risk stepping into the flame that consumes all that is less than the great Reality of life.

I press you close into my heart. I press you for the burning love of the ages. I press you for the translation of your being. And above all, I press you to my heart that you might keep the vision of the Great Central Sun, the City Foursquare, the temple therein, and your soul standing before Alpha and Omega vowing, "I will be made whole in Matter as in Spirit."

First bowing to Alpha, then to Omega, you then turned to each other [to one's twin flame] and made the vow to bring to your respective evolutionary chains the love of the white-fire core of being.

This experience at Summit University¹ is our offering, that you might commemorate that moment and from it take your impetus for your victory in this life.

The Mother understands the transitory nature of this life, the unreality of so many comings and goings. The Mother sees your ultimate Victory. The Mother sees the pitfalls in the way. The Mother understands your doubt and casts it out by the sword of living flame—Mother Mary, the one to whom I gave the vision immaculate of Christ, the incarnate Word; Mother in the white-fire core of your being; Mother in your messenger and in yourself; Mother everywhere—everywhere being the God consciousness of life.

If Individuals Know Not That They Are the Living Dead,
We Must Tell Them!

I AM Gabriel. Hail, sons of flame! Hail, daughters of light!

Come forth and prevail now. Come forth and transfer this sacred fire that I release to you. Transfer it to a world whose desires are unfortunately not the burning desire to be God but whose desires are founded in death, and yet they know it not.

Blessed ones, I will tell you a fact of life and death—that those who begin the spiral of death do not know that they are dying. Those who enter the spirals of the Liar and the lie know not that they are lying and that they are the living lie.

These blessed hearts will pass into the sacred fire through the judgment without ever having known that they had ceased to exist in the moment when they had forsaken the Lord Christ, the eternal Son within, the Mediator of the blessed Presence of Life. And in that moment of turning away from God, they began to live on the secondary light—that which remained as momentum, as it were, almost as if you would live upon your own flesh when fasting for many days and weeks.

And thus, beloved ones, by the time those who must pass through the second death stand on the dais in the God Star, they have not the realization that they are among the living dead nor have any awareness of the meaning of the second death. And thus their electronic blueprint is dissolved before there is any acknowledgment of that fact within their being.

The reason that I make known to you this truth is so that you will understand that every single individual upon earth who does not have contact with the Almighty at some level of his or her being, even though it be at superconscious or subconscious levels—everyone who has lost that contact by conscious, willful rejection of Almighty God in this or any previous existence—has already entered the death spiral.

I make known to you, then, this proposition, which is the Logos of the seraphim and the angels of the white flame—that if they know not that they are the living dead, we must tell them!

We must be the angels of annunciation to proclaim the reality of life, and by our example of being the living—alive with sacred fire, scintillating by the wisdom of his mind, flowing with the great River of Life and the synthesis of the Mother's teachings—by all of this and by our word, our conviction, our determination to enter even into the depths of hell, we must announce to those who have entered the death spiral that death is not real, that the lie can be broken, that the spiral can be arrested, and that they can be converted yet by the Holy Spirit, and Christ shall give thee life.

Beloved ones, their free will has been aborted by their own misuse of it, and yet while they occupy temples in time and space there is yet the hour for the conversion. Therefore, blessed are those who die in the LORD.² Blessed are those who confess to the LORD God prior to their transition.

Thus the custom of the Church to administer the last rites is so very important, that the soul may seal his vow to Almighty God. As long as the vow is sustained, the lifeline is sustained, and the soul is given opportunity to balance karma, to fulfill the divine plan.

I Send You Forth unto Those Who Have Rebelled and Forsaken God

And thus, beloved ones, I send you to the lost sheep of the house of Israel,³ who have forsaken their God, I AM THAT I AM, who have rejected the coming of Messiah in Jesus Christ or within themselves, who know not that they are naked but believe that they are rich and clothed upon with great wealth.

Beloved ones, they are in every race and nation. There are many upon earth this day who have broken the contact with Almighty God. Therefore, we have sent our messenger. Therefore, we have sent you—angels of the light, angels of Gabriel's band, legions of the Central Sun, sons and daughters of God.

You are not ordinary mortals but extraordinary angels incarnate who have determined to tie the knot—to take the thread that has been broken and to mend the flaw, to tie the knot, to reestablish that oneness with the Almighty. In every religion there are those angels who are determined that the souls of those who have broken their vows will be reinstated under the law of God.

I send you forth, then, on a twofold mission from out the white-fire core and within the white-fire core. I send you forth to give the annunciation of the rebirth of the Christ to those who have kept their vows and yet are for the most part entirely ignorant of the vow and its meaning, of the remembrance of the moment or of the implications of the promise.

And then I send you forth unto those who, at some point over the vast aeons of evolution, have rebelled and forsaken God—consciously, with determination, with full awareness of free will—and yet they knew it not. Their free will was manipulated by the spoilers who had already entered their civilizations and their solar systems.

Thus on the right hand and on the left hand of God there are drawn souls who originally had the gift of the threefold flame of life. Now I ask you to be the instruments of this calling, to understand that those who are the living dead cannot choose except you give to them a transfer, a transfusion of the light of Gabriel, of the light of Helios and Vesta and of your own I AM Presence. And that jolt, that release of light, is unto them as the resuscitation of a heart that has ceased to beat. Blessed ones, this is the meaning of conversion unto those who have rebelled against God.

Understand the Meaning of “Selfless”

Who will do this work if you will not? I give to you, then, an instrument of discrimination whereby you will recognize the lightbearers and whereby you will recognize those who have rebelled. To the lightbearer you give your heart. To the rebellious ones you raise the shield for the protection of yourself from the blast of the rebellion that comes as the answer to the shaft of light that you send forth.

When you send forth light into darkness, there is what is known as the backlash, and you must be ready with your shield and with your sword to deal with that energy. Beloved ones, this is not the service of the faint-hearted. This is not a service to be trifled with. This is a service to be rendered only by those who understand the meaning of being self-less within the white-fire core of being. The point of being self-less is that when you are without a self apart from God, there is no target for the fallen ones and therefore you cannot be hit by the backlash.

This is the logic of the angels of the white flame, for they are summoned to the highest discipline and the highest service. Witness the Elohim Astrea, who leads the legions of the Central Sun across the vast galaxies to strip the evolutions of God of that darkness that invades as the darkest of nights.

Blessed ones, you have prepared diligently for your initiations on the white ray,⁴ but I must tell you that you have yet to begin. The beginning is in the testing and in the going forth. If you are not selfless, you will be hit.

Understand the meaning of “selfless.” It means that you are God and without any other self and that you are aware of only God where I AM. And therefore that God that is yourself is invulnerable, invincible. And you do not claim that invincibility and that invulnerability because you think of yourself as a chela on the Path, having attainment, having this or that experience, having this or that awakening. All of this is process. Process, like ritual, is necessary. Its goal is the white-fire core.

Send Forth the Light That Will Quicken the Living Dead

Therefore, even while you are passing through the process, the ritual upon the spiral of light, of entering the white-fire core, you may project yourself in consciousness to the white-fire core.

Be selfless, yet allow that self to also be engaged in the ritual of proving the condition of self-less-ness. This is not difficult, nor is there a dichotomy. You can be in the absolute Presence of God invincible. You can be on the Path as a pilgrim of light. You must understand the perspective. You must understand consciousness.

Beloved ones, when you are set in the arms of Alpha and Omega as the movement of the T'ai Chi within your heart, you may send forth the light that will quicken the living dead. You may raise the shield and sword of Archangel Michael. You may raise the shield and sword of Gabriel and of all the archangels and their archeiai, and you will have provided the means, the very mechanism for the LORD's judgment of those souls. Therefore, my blessed, you share in the mission of the messenger.

Each messenger who comes to earth comes for the one purpose that he declared: “For judgment I am come.”⁵ The light must go forth from you to call the souls of light to the heart of God, to release the light whereby those who have rebelled may be given the final opportunity to choose whom they will serve.

When you send forth the light, let the light go! Let it do its work, and be on your way. You have many rays of light to release from your heart ere God will call you Home in the hour of your ascension. You have many souls to contact.

The Opportunity to Be Instruments for the Sacred Contact

I am standing on this platform before the Cosmic Virgin, with the Keeper of the Scrolls and numbers of angels of record who line this staircase. And these angels of record, who are on the balcony as well, hold the scroll for each of your lifestreams. And each angel, who is your own recording angel, now reads to you a scroll, which is a number of feet in length and yet still rolled.

And upon this scroll there are written, in the script of gold, the names, the inner name and the outer name, of each soul whom you are required to contact in this life in order to ascend. Some of you are required to contact a thousand souls, others ten thousand, others one hundred thousand, others millions. Each one of the souls whom you will contact must have a charge of light from your heart.

How will you do it? I have come to tell you. I have come to give you hope that your karma can be fulfilled with joy and triumph. I have come to give you the understanding that you may do all things that are required of you and do them well. For this purpose Lord Gautama has established the sangha, and the Lord Christ the community of the Holy Spirit. For this reason we have sent forth the teaching through the messengers.

Now understand that when you set your hand to the plow of service within our mandala, which we have established through the Mother of the Flame, through the messenger ascended, you share in the glorious karma of the ascended masters and their unascended chelas.

When you are a part, even a small part, of the effort to publish abroad the teachings, then every word that is read, every tape that is heard, every book that is transferred to souls of light through various means has added unto it the momentum of your I AM Presence, combined with the ascended masters who have dictated those teachings, combined with the momentum of the messengers and all who have decreed.

And thus, whenever a soul picks up that book or hears a tape or comes in contact with the flame, your energy, personally stamped with your own Electronic Presence, its very own insignia, becomes a part of a spiral of white fire that goes forth from the heart of the messenger and gives that jolt to the rebellious and extends the lifeline to the children of light. And therefore by being one in service, you will fulfill every calling.

Now in this hour, when it is even beyond the comprehension of the messenger as to know how many thousands of people are being touched by the message of Saint Germain broadcast on television, by the many tapes that are traveling around the world from student to student, by the literature that moves—now in this hour this mandala represents the way out for the sons and daughters of God who must make the contact and yet who individually are not part of the momentum and therefore will find that many, many lifetimes are required for the day when each recording angel will have checked off each of the names on these scrolls.

Beloved ones, those names represent lifestreams whom you have turned away from the Path in the past, not always maliciously but for many centuries ignorantly, by simply passing an ignorant example.

Therefore, blessed ones, you see the multiplication of virtue and of vice as it comes forth from your chakras and where it has influenced life and taken that life from the Path, even because of subtle condemnation. That life must be reached by you with a charge of light that will reverse the negative spiral that you have formerly sent forth, that will cancel it out and translate to that soul the freedom of free will to choose and show to that soul what it is that he must choose in this life.

Beloved ones, when you are a part of the mandala with the discipline of the Law and of the mantle of the Gurus that we have placed upon the Mother,⁶ you share in this glorious [balancing of] karma. When you separate yourself through disobedience, you lose the greatest opportunity of thousands of years.

I have come to call my own into the house of the Father. I have come to call those who have gone forth from that house and have lost the candle of contact.

Upon you I bestow the light, the opportunity to be instruments for the sacred contact. Receive it now.

[20-second pause]

The Commitment to the Original Vow

This contact, this energy, is first and foremost for the deepest commitment of your soul to the original vow when you went forth from Alpha and Omega. And second, it is to transmute by love all that stands between you and your twin flame, whether that twin flame is ascended, unascended, in this world or another, as a child. No matter what part of life, all of your other relationships are intended to lead you back to the white-fire core of your own mansion.⁷

Let it be that this retreat provides for one and all a new perspective on life and its ultimate fulfillment. Let it be that you can see the long, vast reaches of an ever-flowing evolution, of which you are a part. It is the light evolution of a cosmos. Let it be that you will see the unimportance of the day-to-day matters of time and space, which the world has made so utterly important. Let it be that you understand that it is the detail of God that you must master. Let it be that you will trust the Guru.

I have sealed in the heart of the Mother the names of those lifestreams whom I sponsor by the seven rays, which I draw forth from my heart to serve as catalysts for the reunion of the twin flames, as Above, so below. Those whom I have sponsored are not necessarily twin flames but they have vowed to serve together, as Joseph, as Mary, to anchor the Holy Family and to keep the flame of life on earth, as their twin flames held the flame in heaven.

I therefore sponsor in this quarter of Summit University seven marriages to be consecrated by the Mother of the Flame on Christmas Eve. These marriages will be for the beginning of the New Year and for the reinforcement upon a very dark era of the Holy Family, that those who are a part of the renewal of this vow understand that your life is more than a marriage. It is the holding of the pillars in the temple of life for those souls whose twin flames are now a part of the death spiral of the living dead, of souls who stand to forfeit their twin flame in the Last Judgment. Standing with those souls who must walk the way of the cross in order to magnetize their own twin flames back to the heart of God, you will be rendering a service incomparable.

Those who have already consecrated their marriage vows must understand that upon you is the same blessing and opportunity. And those of you who have chosen to be wed to God in this hour may keep the flame of the pillar of fire for those who will withstand all of that which is anti-love in this earth's evolution. You, too, must face those testings, and therefore whether alone or with the helpmeet, this is my call.

I Look for Souls Who Will Keep the Balance of Energies on Terra

I AM Gabriel. I sponsor life. I sponsor the Holy Child in your heart. And to do this, I look for souls who will keep the balance of energies on Terra. The Mother of the Flame will make known to you those whom I have chosen because they have elected to be in God that oneness.

I seal you now. I have held you in my heart this evening for many hours, for I desire that you should tarry in the Ashram so that your bodies can absorb the light of Mother Mary, of Lanello who has moved among you, of the energy of the Holy Grail.

By the absorption of this light you may now receive that greater light for which you have prepared in this quarter.

Lord Maitreya stands with me for the great exchange. And thus in this moment there ascends to him that portion of energy which it is lawful to ascend, and that portion of Maitreya's being which it is lawful to descend.

Let it be released. Let it be sealed. I seal each one of you in the forehead.

[Intonations]

I invite you, one and all, to the temple of blessed Hope.⁸ I invite you to the retreat where we share an altar of sacred fire. Come, then, and be saturated with light. For forty days we have prepared the ritual to receive you.

Remember when you retire to make the call to angels of Gabriel and Hope and to your own guardian angel to take you to our temple.

Come with your legions. Come with your light. Come alone or with fellow pilgrims, but do not attempt to bring those who have not been a part of this initiation. For the one who keeps the portal, where the Grecian columns prepare the soul for the entrance into the grand hall, will not allow anyone to enter who is unclean or who has retained the discarnates of doubt and fear. For they are the unclean who would invade the temple.

You may, in this moment, surrender [these discarnates]. You may direct them to me. My hands are outstretched as flames of fire.

Send them to me, for I send them to the Central Sun.
Hurl them into this flame!

I give you the opportunity to reestablish your faith, your hope, your charity.

Ho! Ho! Ho! I am never without you, but always within you.

She said: "In the spiritual sense of the word, a mantle is a spiritual office. And with its bestowal, there is passed from Guru to disciple a great sphere of light. A 'Guru' is a spiritual teacher. A Guru not only teaches you about the spiritual path, but he or she also sets the example of how one must walk the Path. Wearing the mantle of Guru, I am the servant of the light of God within you. . . . I am here to assist you and uphold you on your spiritual path . . . and to help you find your way back to God. . . . In Padma Sambhava's July 2, 1977, dictation in which he announced the bestowal of the mantle of Guru upon me, he said: 'Much more of the Mother light can be transferred when the mantle of Guru is placed upon the outer representative.
