Beloved Mother Mary

Behold the Handmaid of the Lord

Part 2

I commend you to the keeping of your guardian angel. And as you leave your temples this night and your souls enter etheric retreats, simply utter a prayer that your Christ Self and your angels will keep the hours of the vigil of invocation to the violet flame. And you will be welcome at the Royal Teton Retreat,¹ where thousands of souls have gathered to invoke the violet flame for America, for each nation, and to enhance the light of Saint Germain as he has anchored the freedom fire in every capital.

Beloved ones, the amphitheater that is above the Royal Teton Retreat² is waiting for your presence and your momentum. Far more among mankind know of the violet flame at inner levels than those who are aware outside the temples.

And though the Mother of the Flame and her editors have many assignments, I must add another, and that one is a book simply on the violet flame—its joys, its glories, its efficacy as the instrument of the Holy Spirit, its power to transmute, its wisdom, its love.³

O blessed hearts, sing the song of the violet flame. It is your joy, your freedom, your eternity expressed in the very marrow of your bones that sing as the atoms sing, the electrons sing:

O violet flame, come, violet flame,
Now blaze and blaze and blaze!
O violet flame, come, violet flame,
To raise and raise and raise! * [given twice with audience]

The Power of Prayer

Beloved ones, did you notice that the blessed elementals brought rain on Christmas Day? And did you know, blessed hearts, that the opening of the blessed showers comes because on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day so many people are gathered in the churches to give acknowledgment of the incarnation of the Word and to sing the Christmas carols whereby the angelic hosts of the Christ Mass descend? There is a twenty-four-hour cycle of prayer, and the heavens of God open.

Is it not strange to you that those who are so scientific on earth do not make this association and that after all of the conferences with rain and the attempt to manipulate the weather, and after all of the worry and the concern, some did not get together and say, “Let us have a national day of prayer for rain”?

Beloved ones, do you think that they feared to be thought superstitious, entering into the age of primitive man when he performed his rain dance? I think that many are too superstitious. As Paul on Mars Hill declared to the Athenians, “Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious,⁴ worshipping the unknown god.”

Blessed hearts, can we not this year instill [such ideas] in the representatives of the people by mailings of letters and suggestions for prayer for many purposes?

If prayer can bring rain, can it not bring peace? Can it not resolve the questions of the Middle East? Can it not solve the problem of the economy, the gold standard, the supply, the demand, the separation of segments of society?

Can we not have a week's meditation, a setting aside of a single week for the ecology of the earth, for the balancing of the planes of Matter, for the unburdening of elemental life, who carry the crucifixion in this hour, bearing in fire, air, water, and earth the tremendous load of impurity, of noxious substance, of chemicals? O blessed hearts, and can we not have even a single twenty-four-hour prayer vigil for the elimination of crime, murder, incest, rape?

It Is Unity That Gives Strength to the Body of God

Blessed hearts, why do the people of the churches not unite? Why cannot Jew and Christian and Muslim come together? And why, when we give our teachings (as we have this evening), do some come and stand in our midst with such utter condemnation, sitting in the seat of the scornful instead of realizing that it is unity that gives strength to the body of God and that if there be a factor of unification through the great synthesis of the Mother flame, ought it not to be praised rather than blamed?

Precious hearts, I have stood as the essence of Mother in this nation, now several centuries since her founding, and I have stood in every land to answer the calls of those who fear not to say my name. Yet comparatively speaking, until the coming of blessed Joseph—your own dear Saint Germain* with the gift of the violet flame—very little progress in the ecumenical movements on earth had been made.

But if you will notice since the 1930s, when some among mankind began to experiment with the alchemy of the violet flame, there has been a tremendous upsurge of unity, of mutual understanding, of interest in the cultures of the East, of the exchange of individuals and religious leaders East and West. But always there are the diehards who are stuck in the mud of their doctrine, who cannot get out, who will not get out.

*Saint Germain was embodied as Joseph, the father of Jesus.

Beloved ones, did you ever go into the barnyard and try to pull the little piglets out of the mud, and they will not come and they will not budge until finally they pull you into the mud?

The Key to the Healing of the Body of God Is the Violet Flame of Saint Germain

Beloved hearts, how long shall we endure? How long shall the children of God be subjugated to the doctrinaire forms that leave no room for Christ to enter?

Beloved ones, we have sent our representatives on earth into the churches that proclaim him, but our representatives could enter no farther than the back door. And do you know why? It is because of the scorn and the prejudice of the members and because in their scorn for one another they open themselves wide open to the demons of schism.

And therefore present right in the very midst of the congregation the demons of pride say, "Only our sect will enter heaven. Only we have the ultimate truth." When those who call themselves Christians proclaim thusly, they must know that they open the doors of the temple not to the eternal Christ but to the impostors who dwell at astral planes in the person of Antichrist.

Blessed ones, yet, yet with all of this, their hearts desire sincerely to have the way, the truth, and the life. But in their fear, their great fear of darkness, they cling to a rigidity that is beyond all reason. And that rigidity and that brittleness makes for the infestation of the mind by these demons of fanaticism.

Blessed hearts, I pray that you will pray for the body of God and that you will see that the key to its healing is the violet flame of Saint Germain.

Some of you serve so diligently in wielding the sword of Archangel Michael and beloved Astrea that sometimes you end your service just short of the fullness of the violet flame that could be given for that running over of the cup of life, that inundating of the earth with the all-transmuting power of Saint Germain.

And so, remember that the softening of consciousness and the kneading of the dough comes through the alchemy of Joseph*—Joseph, my beloved, who lives to rule as the father of the Church and as the sponsor of each and every one who will uphold the pillars in the temple of truth.

My Gift to You Is the Flame of Concentration

I am Mary. My gift to you is the flame of concentration. Concentration is a brilliant, emerald ray. See now how it is intensified through my third eye, through the third eye of the Mother. Some of you who have inner sight will see that concentrated energy. Some of you will feel it as a tingling in your own third eye. Some of you will know with an inner knowing its presence.

I transfer this energy to you because it is, of all gifts, one of the greatest. For with concentration you can complete any task, perform any prayer ritual, succeed in any meditation, be a scientist, a musician, an artist, and, above all, a servant of the light.

Concentration is the key to the passing of your initiations and to the completion of each cycle you begin. By concentration you become Alpha and Omega. By the concentrated meditation on the Eye of God, you become God. For over the pathway of your concentration all life will flow to you.

*Saint Germain

Cherish this gift and watch how you are able to extend the stilling of the mind, as on the path of the Buddha—the concentration of mind's energy for God-mastery and for the sustainment of the healing currents within your garment and your chakras. By concentration you are filled with light as God pours his energy through you, to you, over the shaft of concentration that you send to him.

Allowing your attention to not be removed from the vision of the celestial city descending, you will see how the New Jerusalem will manifest in your heart, in your city, in your country. And God will be, through your concentrated devotion, the All-in-all to all life.

I Will Help You in Your Daily Tasks

I am not only your Mother but your very personal friend. I ask you to take my hand, to take me to your home, to accept me as your friend, not as a remote deity, an icon, or an object of irreverence, but simply as the handmaid of the Lord. Whose Lord? Your Lord.

I am the servant of the Lord who lives within you. I am one with whom you can be comfortable. I will sit at your kitchen table and have a cup of tea with you. I will receive whatever offering of food that you prepare, for all is sanctified by love. I will receive whatever is precious to you and take it to my heart and give it back to you with the full consecration of my love.

I will help you in your daily tasks. Ask me for assistance with your problems, how to do this or that, and I will apply all that I have in my causal body of the understanding of science, technology, order, organization, administration, the managing of your household accounts, your supply, what you need for the elevation of your temple as healing methods. Beloved ones, I am truly the practical woman of the household and

I come to show you the way of the care of the little children.

Now won't you take me to your heart and talk to me? For so often I would be friends but I am neglected and feel that you do not want me in your house. And so I leave and go down the street and I play with the little children. And they are always very happy to have me come, for they know me one and all, for I have been their sponsor at the hour of birth.

And so the little tiny ones jump with glee as I come, and they laugh and they laugh when I swing with them. And when they see me on the seesaw with them, balancing three or five [of them], beloved ones, they poke fun at me in my garments, jumping rope and doing all sorts of games with them.

Do you know how few adults do play with children in the true spirit of childhood and innocence?

O beloved ones, I am your friend and the friend of every head of state, every member of Congress, and those who are seized with their self-importance. Beloved ones, I have the solution to many problems. If someone would but ask, I would tell them.

Perhaps you should ask for [these solutions on behalf of] your president, his cabinet, and all the rest. For so many of your representatives have been divested of the intercession of the Virgin Mother because their religion does not partake of the Motherhood of God.

And many truly, beloved ones, are in despair, knowing not how the problems of this nation will be resolved. And the more problems that come, the more problems are used as solutions to problems. And as you well know, one problem will not solve another; another error will not eliminate a former error.

More taxation does not resolve previous taxation. And thus the system, the Social Security system, is deeper and deeper in debt, the national debt grows greater, money becomes worth less and less. The sacred labor is less sacred and people wonder, "Why am I born and why do I live?"

Let the Barriers Go Down!

Beloved ones, I am very much the woman of the hour, and I desire to teach you how to be the man and the woman of the twentieth century who will release the energies of God for the resolution of every area of life.

Now let us see how many of you will have a more real appreciation of my service and a sense that I am truly one like you, very much like you in my evolution.

And so let us see how this sense of comfortability with one member of the heavenly hosts will be the introduction for you to all types of ascended masters of East and West. Whether they come with a face of Tibet or China or India or Africa or of America, may you be blessed with the understanding that all of the hosts of light are your friends, that the saints of every religion are the friend of the worshipers of God in every faith.

This is my desire and I say, let the barriers go down! I raise my right hand and I say, let the barriers go down!

Will you not say it with me? [Audience joins:] Let the barriers go down! Let the barriers go down! Let the barriers go down!

So I AM in the white-fire core of the mountain of God's being. I AM in the Holy of Holies of thy blessed Self. Adieu.

Blessed Mother Mary

Blessed Mother Mary
 In thy love and grace
 And thy Mother feeling
 Enfold all the race
 Consecrate us, Mary dear
 Body, spirit, soul, and mind
 Let thy healing essence
 Bless now all mankind.

Raise mankind's attention
 To thy realms on high
 'Til they know God's presence
 And on him rely
 To grant now each one's desire
 To his great perfection be
 And stand forth in glory
 Free eternally.

Blessed Master Jesus
 Mother Mary dear
 Help us give obedience
 In our service here
 Raise all God's life on earth
 Until just like thee we win
 Our ascension's vict'ry
 By God's light within.*
