Love, the Fulfilling of the Law of the Crucifixion
Part 1

I come in the love mysteries of the eternal rose of the heart. I come in the center of the perfumed fragrance of that rose unfolding, of that lily rising, and it is the fragrance of the soul tethered to the will of God.

I stand in the midst of the congregation of the righteous—I who have borne the fruits of the Lamb, I who have witnessed the revelation and the vision of the hour of the translation of every son and daughter of God.

The understanding of who is Alpha and Omega and the delivery of the message of the little book was given to me by the hosts of the Lord, emissaries of God's kingdom who came in the name of the Faithful and True. And I understood that the sealing of that book was for the sealing of the mysteries until that book should be opened in the individual life as the life reached the point of translation, entering into the mystery of the rose of the heart.

Love, the Fulfilling of the Law of the Crucifixion

Part 1

Hail, lightbearers of old. I come in the love mysteries of the eternal rose of the heart. I come in the center of the perfumed fragrance of that rose unfolding, of that lily rising, and it is the fragrance of the soul tethered to the will of God.

I stand in the midst of the congregation of the righteous—I who have borne the fruits of the Lamb, I who have witnessed the revelation and the vision of the hour of the translation of every son and daughter of God.¹

The understanding of who is Alpha and Omega and the delivery of the message of the little book² was given to me by the hosts of the LORD, emissaries of God's kingdom who came in the name of the Faithful and True. And I understood that the sealing of that book was for the sealing of the mysteries until that book should be opened in the individual life as the life reached the point of translation, entering into the mystery of the rose of the heart.

You have known that the rose is the symbol of the unfolding of the mysteries of God. Your own beloved Saint Germain has used the symbol of the rose and the rose cross. For through the rose, as the development of the heart chakra, the cross of sorrow and suffering of Good Friday becomes the resurrection and the life to every son and daughter of God. To this end were the mystery schools established, and the mystery schools, one and all, are founded upon the rock of the revelation of Jesus Christ preserved in code in the Christian Bible.³

The preservation of the mystery of God is for the unfolding of the inner potential of yourself. As we have drawn together the students of the ages in our own mystery school, so we have taken the summation and the consummation of the teachings that have been vouchsafed here and there through the Dark Ages, through the Middle Ages, through those periods when the outer recognition was lacking and only those who kept the inner light were able to pass the torch of these mysteries.

The Gathering Place of the Eagles

Beloved ones, there have been periods in history when only one individual in embodiment preserved those mysteries and the sacred texts, and by that one candle and that one torch there was the passing of the light to the succeeding generations. Now the culmination of the Aquarian age, when the Seventh Angel shall begin to sound and the mysteries of God should be finished,⁴ so the coming of Saint Germain is the drawing together of the eagles wheresoever the body, the carcass of the Lord is.⁵

This Corpus Christi, this manifestation of light, is the focal point for the delivery of the Word. Wherever there is the lifestream who is carrying the candle or the torch of the mysteries, there in that Corpus Christi, there in that mystical body is the gathering place of the eagles. The eagles refer to the sons and daughters of God—those who fly the highest, those who see the farthest, and those who have the intensity of that perception and that vision to penetrate the planes of Spirit and Matter.

You are the eagles who are called to the Corpus Christi. You have come to that place where the Lamb is, where the Lamb is revealed in the spoken Word. And you have recognized that coming into the presence of the embodied messenger, you also stand face-to-face with your own Christ Self, your own I AM Presence. And here in the very midst of the flame of the ark of the covenant, so the prophecy is fulfilled—the coming of the Lord and the voice of the Lord. It is the voice within. It is the concentration of light. It is the unfoldment of the path of your initiation in the ascension.

Beloved ones, those who prefer their own way prefer the Spirit of God without the personification of that Spirit. They prefer the principle without the Person, and therefore they dwell upon a light emanation and they prefer their own interpretation of that light emanation.

You see, then, the great courage of the eagles and of the elect of God to stand in the presence of the witness, who will witness unto truth and who will expose error within the person, within the planetary body. And in this understanding there is the perpetual drawing aside of the veils of error and of maya so that the soul may behold that God face-to-face.

It is the prophecy, then, of the fulfillment of the Word of God that whosoever should endure unto the end should become the Son of God, should be called the Son of God.⁶ The enduring to the end of the cycles of human consciousness is the very challenge of this hour—the enduring unto the end of the fascinations, the illusions, the maya, and all of the temptations of the world as these must pass through the nexus of the consciousness of the lightbearers into the heart, into the rose, into the threefold flame for transmutation.

And so beloved ones, those who are required to be in God on the Lord's day and in his Spirit are also required to be those who have the most acute awareness and sensitivity to the dissonance, the discord, the defamation, the degradation, the degeneration, and the immorality of the world at large. And this, beloved ones, in those who have less attainment, is the very cause for insanity. For those who do not have the attainment of the light cannot bear to stand in the Presence of God and also to stand in the temple of the nations and to expose the Liar and his lie.

This juxtaposition of Light and Darkness comes, then, in the very midst of the people Israel. And those who can keep the flame of God-reality blazing—those who have the tangible manifestation of that etheric reality as though it were concrete Spirit, even as concrete Matter—stand firm in the conviction of the Law even while they must extend that sacred fire for that transmutation of darkness.

The Establishment of the Excellence and the Wholeness of Spirit

Beloved ones, when there are physical fires, the experts are called—the fire department, the police department, the emergency squads. They come forth and they perform that work that is necessary for the keeping of life in the community. Therefore when we have great darkness that must be transmuted by great light, we also call the experts. And if the experts are not quite expert in the bringing forth of the sacred fire for that event, then I say, we raise up and we make experts out of those who would call themselves sons and daughters of God.

Excellence is not necessarily a virtue by which you are born but it is a virtue by which you are made the fullness of the light. And therefore the requirement of the hour is the need for the professional son and daughter of God who places first and foremost the excellence of the Law, the discipline of mind and heart, the ability to be on guard and to be there at the point of contact, the point of precipitation.

This excellence is often developed by outer training and outer purpose and education, for it also requires the agility and adeptship with the things that are concrete Matter and the things that are in this world. But this does not mean that there ought to be the tipping of the scales of reality, the Libra scales of justice whereby the emphasis becomes the mastery of the Matter plane for the abandonment of that dexterity of soul and mind so necessary to transfer the attainment of the outer into the inner attainment of the City Foursquare.

Let, therefore, those sons and daughters of God who would be with us in the coming of the new heaven and the new earth put first things first. Let them will to become pillars in the temple, and let them see how the unfoldment of the spirals of the sacred fire within the temple is the very grid and forcefield necessary for the establishment of the excellence and the wholeness of Spirit, yin and yang, Matter and Spirit, in and out. So shall thy goings and thy comings be by the nexus of the Christ consciousness.

Now Is Now and Always Now

So for every attainment in Spirit, beloved ones, there must be a corresponding attainment in Matter, and this is the great sine wave of your life—that you return to the plane of the now, you return to the plane of reality where time and space converge at the nexus of the moment of qualification.

Now is now and always now, and this plane of qualification is your point of God Self-awareness. And you may say “now,” and you may say “now,” and you may say “now.” And whenever you say “now,” it is the point of the meeting of past and future, of energies within and without. It is the point for bringing forth and to bear upon being and becoming the fullness of the spirals of light that ascend into the exalted consciousness of Almighty God, which you may very well call and determine as the future because that level of attainment is not sustained in the now.

And then for the descent into the depths of Matter for that attainment in that plane, it immediately upon its attainment becomes the past, for it passes through the cycles and passes through the nexus of qualification. And therefore attainment in the Matter plane is known to us as the past that has become the past-perfect, and attainment in the Spirit dimensions becomes the future-perfect because it is sealed in eternity and is that state of grace to which you shall be conformed by the renewing of your mind.

Past-perfect, future-perfect meet in the nexus of the now, and therefore present reality is always eternity seemingly ensconced in time and space but never so, and always ensconced by the vibrations of God-mastery.

Beloved ones, you have heard the angel—the Mighty Angel with a Cloud and a Rainbow upon His Head and in His Hand a Little Book—speak to you of the absence of time and space, the non-existence of time and space in infinity, in the ascended masters’ octaves.⁷ Beloved ones, the absence of time and space in the ascended masters’ octaves has to do with the fact that the ascended masters no longer have the need for coordinates of time and space.

Beloved ones, their coordinates are the virtue, the attainment, the light, the expression of infinity. These coordinates mark the gradations and the unfoldment of spirals and cycles of being. And so, you see, the necessity of the compartments of time and space is a necessity only to those evolutions of consciousness and of being that of necessity require them because of an absence of the gradations of light and the emanations of the seven rays, which in themselves are God’s means of the segmenting or the apportioning of cosmic energy.

Congruency and a Cosmic Geometry Replace the Sense of Time and Space

Now understand that the release of this energy of light and this momentum comes forth from infinity and yet it is calculated by you as though it were in time and space. In reality, as you are free from that sense of awareness as you stood in the presence of that angel, you yourself had the recognition, as you often do in the dictations of the ascended masters, of being suspended in that Great Causal Light Body, that great body of light of infinity.

This light of God never fails, and therefore I demand stillness and I demand the sealing of these lifestreams. And I call forth for the angels of Almighty God to set that flaming light and to set that energy to reestablish that forcefield whereby I may give forth to you this wondrous understanding of the line of Almighty God.

Beloved ones, as you see the line of experience, each point within that line is the point of the now. The line seems to pass from future unto the past, but in reality the line is simply the extension of a spiral of God becoming God within you so that that which appears to be a line is actually infinity infolding itself, unfolding itself, and the eternal Now becomes the expression of the attainment of the glory of God in Spirit and the attainment of the glory of God as Mother within Matter.

Bringing to bear these two sine waves, each time you cross that point of the line of the now, beloved ones, that point of contact, that point of God-reality becomes the focal point of the creation of the Great Pyramid of Life within you. And in the center of that great pyramid is the resurrection flame, and in the center of your heart is the resurrection flame. And therefore congruency and a cosmic geometry replace the sense of time and space, and therefore time is no longer, space is not, but right in the very midst of your evolution, wherever you are, there is the now, there is the moment, there is the nexus.

You may determine, then, the absence of your self-mastery, the absence of the awareness of your God flame, by the fact that you have lost the sense of the eternal Now and the perspective of the future-perfect and the past-perfect and the conjoining of these forces and these energies of light right where you are.
