The Future of Freedom on Terra Part 2

Beloved ones, it is important to appreciate how the mind of the strategist of darkness works. I commend you to a number of publications and studies that have been made upon the peculiar consciousness, the veritable insanity of tyrants, Caesars, and the power-hungry of all ages.

The Future of Freedom on Terra

Part 2

Beloved ones, it is absolutely essential that freedom-loving souls determine to elect a president of the United States who will stand against those fallen ones within and without this nation. The Lamb of God must sit in the White House—the Lamb of God who is the Christ.

Beloved ones, this is most important. As you return to your cities and your communities in these years and months ahead, you must set your God-determination to uphold that candidate who is the greatest flow and incarnation of freedom as my representative. And by and by it will be made known to you the one whom we also will select and to whom we will give our momentum of the violet ray.

It is essential that preparedness among the children of light be for the top positions of church and state, education and science, and, above all, the economy. The God of Gold calls for recruits of lightbearers to become those economists who will focus that light. And, beloved ones, I tell you, to hold the light in the very midst of the activities of the beast out of the sea and the beast out of the earth¹ does require intense levels of initiation.

O precious hearts, what folly! What folly! For when we have sent our children of the light into the midst of these situations, on occasion they have not been able to withstand the intensity of those beasts of prey that sit on thrones of worldly power, there to challenge by their venom any son or daughter of God who would dare to come nigh to challenge their scepters made in hell.

O beloved ones, there is an ugliness to the astral plane and the false hierarchy and to those who are bent on world domination and destruction. I tell you this only so that you might gird up yourselves for the victory, draw in the sacred fire breath and be filled with the energy of God, and know that it is an intensity of one-pointedness that will bring you to that victory and to that moment when you must draw the great sword of the Spirit and pierce the dragon's heart.

This is the calling of knights and ladies of the flame. It is the unseen principalities and powers—the requirements of deftness of the Spirit, adeptness of the Spirit, a mind that is a razor's edge, the Gemini mind of Morya, the sharpening of the wit as well as the burnished steel.

We Fear Not, Nor Should You Fear

Beloved ones, it is important to appreciate how the mind of the strategist of darkness works. I commend you to a number of publications and studies that have been made upon the peculiar consciousness, the veritable insanity of tyrants, Caesars, and the power-hungry of all ages. To understand this is also to understand how the carnal mind within moves against your souls and how those forces—so cunning and conniving, receding behind a mask of amicability—yet move with a deadly vibration against the souls of light.

We fear not, nor should you fear. We only expose this to those who would be centered in the All-Seeing Eye of God. We say: For the future of freedom on Terra, the victory is now in the very palm of your hand, in your very beating heart. But it is the calculation of the light waves, of their vibration, of the strategy of light. It is the calculation of the accessibility of your soul.

You must be guardians of the race and, as such, cherish your right, your divine right for contact with us. And therefore the daily measure of your soul is the understanding that if you are a part of our bands, if you have made the necessary sacrifices to remain in the fiery core of Alpha and Omega, then we may call upon you as noble representatives. And when you are called upon, you will have limitless light, limitless abundance, limitless violet flame.

It is well to have friends at court. It is well to court friends of light. It is well to know which side of the bread is buttered. It is well to know, for beloved ones, no man, no woman can conquer alone, and you must know that there is no help forthcoming by compromise with error or with the Adversary.

Let Galahad be your standard, and Parsifal and all who have gone before, now in your very midst. Let the standard of purity be seen as that which gives the strength. If, then, I were to prognosticate in any fashion, I must say that the future of freedom is secure in the light, in the hearts of our Keepers of the Flame.

But, beloved ones, it must be secure also in manifest action. Truly your hearts will soar and sing and bring your souls to alight on wings of angels. But then, freedom is more than a successful transition into higher octaves as the abandonment of the battlefield of life. After all, we are counting on the absolute victory of planetary spheres!

The Number of Souls Assembled Here Is Truly Adequate

I would point out to you that the number of souls assembled here is truly adequate. Every revolution of darkness that has been foisted upon the civilizations of this earth has been accomplished by less than a tenth of these numbers. Less than a tenth have met and determined the course of action, usually through one mastermind who emerged above others as the one who was the top dog in power manipulation. The power struggle, beloved ones, is ever on amongst the fallen ones. So did Lenin rise to that position of inaccessibility.

See, then, that it is not the numbers but the astuteness of the members. I desire that you should retain the memory of this one fact—that if you do not bring the victory of the light on Terra, it will be because you have incorrectly assessed your own soul's potential to accomplish that victory under the canopy of the Great White Brotherhood.

What brings about this incorrect assessment of self-worth? Often it is the pendulum swing of pride—the elevation and then the de-elevation of the ego. And then there is the blindness of selfishness, the lures of sensuality, and the little preoccupations that seem as nothing but are those that the fallen ones have learned long ago they must set aside if they are to win their victory.

Today there are greater sacrifices being made by Communist troops and Communists at all levels than by the majority of freedom-loving peoples of the world. You cannot imagine the sacrifices of these people, who believe that they are the deliverers and the saviours of mankind. Why, beloved ones, if you did not know that it is the work of the fallen ones, you yourselves might be tempted to believe, by their very zeal, that their cause is right.

What Is the Fruit of Your Labor?

Wonder of wonders, then, that we yet hear complaints within our own ranks—“Too much work, too much work, too much responsibility, too much involvement. I don’t want it.” Well, beloved ones, the little babies with their spoons in their mouths crying, “I want, I want; I don’t want, I don’t want” are of little use to the Great White Brotherhood in the deliverance of the age of Aquarius. They will have their cycles of ripening, and if there is a field of battle left, they will have the opportunity to seize their swords and not lay them down to drink or to eat.

Precious ones, let us, by introspection, discover whether we as individuals are really girded for the victory. Let each one examine his own life by this one standard—the current, now effectiveness of your life. It is not what you intend to accomplish in the future, not what you have accomplished in the past or in a past life, but consider today: How effective are you from early morning until evening and into the later hours?

What is the fruit of your labor? Is it something nebulous, something unfinished? Are your spirals incomplete? Have you changed action today? Or are you simply repeating words and more words concerning freedom, concerning what people ought to be doing, and lamenting that they are not doing it?

Do you see, then, that many have the illusion that they are very effective, and yet how many souls do they convert in a given day? How many are supported by their flame in dynamic decrees? Is there a senseless wasting of time and energy? Is there overindulgence in food, in sleep, in play?

Beloved ones, let us count day by day what mark we are making on the screen of life. For when you look at this equation, I tell you, you will not need a course in personal management to see clearly how you squander bit by bit the hours of the day, the energies of the day in projects that are impractical, without vision, too complex, too simple, projects that you ought not to be taking on because you do not have the talent, projects that you have invented as an escape from the very necessary service of our movement, our heart centers* here and across America.

Some individuals can imagine the most wondrous experiments and the most wondrous services, and they become so totally preoccupied in projects, which in reality are not serving the central goal of our cause. And therefore months go by and they justify that they have this innermost contact with our Brotherhood and that they are indeed right on the firing line, when, beloved ones, I would be, as you would say, scared to put them on that firing line because I know that they do not have the alacrity of the Spirit to survive even for a moment.

Be Stripped of Self-Indulgence

Let there be an inner alignment. Let there be an appeal, through these beings of Purity, to the highest cosmic sources so that you might be a fuller expression of those of us who have gone before, who are level-headed and level-eyed and who know that we must put our energy where energy counts—in the white-fire core of this our movement and in the community at large.

Be stripped, then, of that self-indulgence! Be stripped of it now! And if you cannot see what is the greatest service you can render, I have appointed a number of very fine counselors and representatives within this very organization who, because they have the vision of the whole, know immediately where the holes are in that vision. And they cry out for souls to fill those places, while other souls who could fill those places tarry in other dimensions and other pursuits.

Omri-Tas Sends Forth a Ray of Light

Can freedom be lost on earth? I must say, yes, it can. Will it be lost on earth? It will be dependent upon your determination and just what you accomplish. I set this year, then, for the greatest practicality—the practical realization of the Real Self within each and every one of you.

I desire that you will examine yourself, pursue courses of study, and pursue the direct counseling with our messenger or her representative that will place you in the moment of the greatest concentration of energy, where many spirals are converging and require the thrust of your heart flame.

Do we use souls of light? We use those who would also use us, and we understand that this is the law of love. There is a supreme usefulness in the great cosmic interchange of the figure-eight flow. There is the extension of self by us in dimensions of the Matter plane. There is the extension of yourself into octaves of light.

Let not the fallen ones, then, tell you that the Brotherhood has come to take from you your freedom or your life and to use you at its will. We are not tyrants! You have not even begun to hear the word of tyranny of the fallen ones that is directed to their underlings.

Why, by comparison, precious hearts, you are as free as the birds that soar. I tell you, then, that we desire to keep our band of light in the golden ring that represents our marriage to God and to every embodied chela. We are devoted spouses. We come to exalt! We come to lift up! We come to show you a path that by your diligence you may use to attain your victory!

It is you who must use the path of initiation and the great burdens of the world for your own acceleration and ascension. God does not create darkness because souls of light need darkness to win. But when there is darkness, coincidentally, souls can accelerate a vast victory, a vast increase in the causal body, and therefore use the ascended masters! We are here, after all! Use the world condition and see how you can leap into the arms of the everlasting God at the conclusion of this sojourn.

Precious ones, we commend each and every one of you who has walked the Path as a line of light, and we rebuke those who have deserted that line of light for their personal preferences and their imagination of their personal oneness with our person.

The commendation to Keepers of the Flame and friends of freedom is forthcoming from the noble Omri-Tas, and he sends forth a ray of light that now does accelerate in souls of victory their own momentum of overcoming by the power, the magnitude of ten, of his own causal body. And unto those who have taken our light and now used it unto their own indulgences, by the power of ten there is the diminishing of that light and the abuse of that light. And so it is the edict of the Lord Sanat Kumara, “To them that have light, more shall be added; to them who have misqualified the light, shall be taken away that which they have.”²

I AM Your Cosmic Servant on the Path of Freedom

I am your cosmic servant on the path of freedom. I share with you my causal body. I move with you. And I charge every soul who comes into our forcefield for the very first time:

God has chosen you! God has chosen you to meet our Brotherhood and our chelas! May you find here something of worth, something of a tenderness, and an old memory of our friendship. May you find the reality of souls who love you, and love you, and love you. We are those souls who have become one with the living God, and our love for you is a great line by which we draw you into the very center of God’s will.

Now I send forth a flame, a bursting fire! O fire, now burst as a great sphere of energy! I send one over America, and Omri-Tas with me sends these spheres of light over Russia and China, Europe and Africa. There is a great bursting of cosmic energy as these spheres of freedom, delivered by Omri-Tas from out the Great Central Sun, descend now for a greater quickening of freedom.

We are preparing the soil of consciousness. Now go. Plant the seed. Be on your way. Know that truth will hold sway and that I will stay the hand of darkness and be with you in the way of Christ.

There Are No Others Who Are Equipped with the Sword of the Spirit

Beloved ones, it may seem trite when I say, “The future of freedom is in your hands.” But, beloved ones, I have journeyed to the Great Central Sun. I have knelt before the altar of Alpha and Omega, and the Father-Mother God has told me, “Saint Germain, tell the chelas of the ascended masters that from our viewpoint, the future of that freedom depends entirely upon their choices made today. We look to no other. For you see, Saint Germain, there are no others who are equipped with the sword of the Spirit to slay the dragons and the beast that would devour the children of God.”

Do you understand, then, that the victory of freedom, as it was told to me by Alpha and Omega, is entirely dependent on attainment on the path of initiation—not on outer training but to hold the level against the dragon?

Sweethearts of Alpha and Omega, many of you, in the quietness and in the joy and acceleration of your service, have many a day held down those fallen ones while our representatives in the legislatures and the Congress and the councils of the world have moved forward with our aims and objectives and have carried them through, only because you were there in the fiery core of Camelot keeping the flame of our community.

Do not wonder any longer, when you are weary in your bodies. Do not be dismayed. For you see, where those who are on the front lines have not the attainment, it is then the chelas who hold the balance. And if you leave the white-fire core to go out and be an activator, you may very well be abandoning that post that enables ten thousand to do their work each day.

This is why I recommend that you do consult with our messenger before changing your forcefield or your area of service. For in the matter of self-assessment, most of you little realize how much light you carry, how much momentum. And when you put the power of the Great White Brotherhood to the test, you will discover that our aid is unailing. Our backing is perfect love. It is given to those from whose altar the incense of holy prayer arises and the pure fragrance of meditation is upon the Most High God, and where there is the quivering of the energies of the dynamic decrees.

The Future of Freedom Is in Your Hands, in Your Heart

And so, beloved, I tell you truly, as the Father-Mother God speaks to you. It is in simple words, for the answer is simple: The future of freedom is in your hands, in your heart.

And God himself has said, “If, then, these souls of light do not deliver the planet in this hour, we will then put forth an alternate plan of survival.” I leave you with this, for I do not care to put out the matrix of the alternate plan.

But, beloved ones, as you may well know, our councils are not without resources. And we are resourceful, and we look at the probabilities and the eventualities. But in this moment of joy, of earnestness, and of the seriousness that comes from the God Star, we have but one vision, one view. It is your victory! victory! victory! in the flame of Holy Spirit.

I AM Saint Germain, and I will not leave you, any one,
as long as you keep your covenant with me.

I plant a kiss upon your brow and I say, surrender now.
It is never too late.
