Camelot Come Again

The Thrust of Excalibur

Part 2

We seek to ennoble within you the light of far-off worlds. When, then, people come to appreciate you for just being you in the fullest cosmic sense of the word, they may then perchance perceive the twinkle of our eye or our word peeping through your actions. And, beloved, we desire no other credit than the credit of the chela who has fought the good fight and won. [Audience applauds.]

And so some have thought that they would have carte blanche by quoting our name and quoting our friendship—name-dropping, you know? [Laughter] And they have been very shallow in the understanding of the integrity of their own name and how that name must be kept crystal and gold and sterling, as they say.

Beloved ones, fear not to become your Real Self. So many of the disillusioned in the psychic world, who have followed after the wandering stars to whom is reserved the mist and the darkness forever,<sup>1</sup> have wandered after these because of the absence of their own integrity and identity. Seeking it in another, having it not themselves, they fall prey to the very same incomplete identity that has not been sufficient in themselves and will never ever be sufficient in the false guru.

I commend you for the perception of light, which you are. Most gratifying unto the Great Central Sun messengers—who have tarried at Camelot in recent days as they have taken their recording and their analysis for beloved Alpha and Omega—is to see the quality of our chelas. And therefore we as chohans of the rays have gathered in the Darjeeling Council this very week and we have said, “Let us see what we have done right, and let us see what we have done wrong.”

Do ascended masters make mistakes? The only mistake is the unpredictability of the human self. And sometimes, as we cast our programs and our texts and our seminars at a certain level of need of the soul, there is not necessarily always the fullness of response that we had desired because of varying conditions of consciousness and so many factors that are involved in the free will of the individual. And yet we see that our programs at Summit University and in our retreats and in our Stumps have by and large been very successful, and we are the first to admit and understand that we can implement new programs and inspire these upon you, our co-workers in the field, and you, our servants in the fiery core.

We look to both equally, and yet sometimes we have discovered that our servants in the field do not consider themselves as important as those who are in the white-fire core.* And therefore, simply by that absence of self-worth, they even sometimes think that because they are not in the white-fire core they are not good enough. Nothing could be further from the truth, beloved ones.

The Energy That Is in Your Heart Is a Balancing Factor for Thousands and Millions

Great strength is required of the one who will have that mobility of consciousness to be the electron whirling from the center to the periphery, adjusting unto the white-fire core and then unto the Matter plane. We count our co-workers in the field as absolutely essential. In fact, when it comes to the balance of power, there are many days when your service is more important because that service is the sustaining factor of light that keeps the flow of energy pumping back to the heart [of the white-fire core].

But alas, I must say, as there has been a reckoning made by the Darjeeling Council, that because of the inability to assess one's own ability on the part of many in the field who have attended Summit University, we must say to you in all honesty that those who are in the field, by and large, are not taking the responsibility that they should, are not pursuing with that verve and intensity that which they ought to be pursuing—the bringing in of souls of light. And therefore there are the few who are working diligently round the clock, and there are others who are not yet galvanized and magnetized to the fervor that is necessary.

Some of you, then, lack that ability in co-measurement to understand who and what you are as you function in the large cities of the world. And therefore I desire to tell you. You are brilliant lights moving in the corridors of these cities, in the subways, and in the streets and in the places of work and of leisure. The energy that is in your heart is a balancing factor for thousands and millions. And by this very factor of the weight that you carry, you lose the perspective of your light, which is sometimes all but covered over by the burden that is upon you. Yet even so, that light is penetrating the darkness. And because that light burns on, there is hope for those who would otherwise have no hope.

The Great Miracle of the Age

Will you not, then, study with diligence as these are made available to you—the letters that I have dictated through the Pearls of Wisdom since the very inception of The Summit Lighthouse?<sup>2</sup> For Camelot is a twenty-year spiral of our endeavor.

And do you know, when we began in Washington, D.C., with our messenger, our eye was on this very property, this very place? [Applause]

Do you know how many decisions of the Karmic Board, how many dispensations, how many conferences, how many publications, how many students drawn into the fiery core, have passed in these years?

It has become thousands and hundreds of thousands of steps taken by the pilgrims of light. It is sad to report that not all who began have arrived across in this caravan of light. Some have gone beyond into the octaves of light and are gathered in your midst as chelas, though they be ascended masters.

Beloved ones, to see such an evolution in twenty years ought not to be astounding, and yet I think that we ought to consider it a great miracle of the age and to give our applause to the Lords of Karma, who have made this entire dispensation possible. [30-second applause]

Beloved ones, in response to your applause, the seven members of the Karmic Board have stood in chamber in the Royal Teton Retreat to bow before the light within your heart. And they desire that I should transmit to you the word that without that light and your freewill decision to implement that light, their own hands would have been tied before the Cosmic Council and Alpha and Omega, whence these dispensations come.

The Act of Decision-Making

Would you, then, consider and think for a few seconds on how many decisions you have made in this single lifetime that have brought you to this place as you are, on the lawn at Camelot? And consider how many of those decisions—had they not been in the affirmative, active, pushing forward—would have canceled out the opportunity for further decision.

You might say that the chain of decision and decision-making is like an endless, child's Tinkertoy that simply keeps on and on and on. And when you look back and you say to yourself, "By God's grace, by God's grace, I AM THAT I AM," then I say, we from the ascended level also share with you that very same statement. Seeing the perspective of the flames that burn from one end to the other, one begins to have the sense that individual electrons (as you are) circling the planetary body are a measurement of time and space.

Time, then, is different for those on one end of the chain than upon the other. This equation of time being defined by the individual, we begin to see that decision-making as a demonstration of free will leaps across that chain heart to heart.

Decisions made in New York and moving across the United States affect every city and lifestream for good or for ill. And the chain of the chelas of the Great White Brotherhood that surrounds this planetary body—through many teachers and representatives of our light, who reside chiefly in India in this very hour—makes possible the girding of the planet round with a perpetual flow of energy that is actually given impetus by right decision, right action, dynamic decree, the determined intent to be the light and to serve the light that is in your heart, actually tens of thousands of times per day.

You may not consciously acknowledge that you are in the act of decision-making, but the forward thrust, the constancy, becomes as a moving stream, a single idea, a single vision toward which all forces of being are directed. And therefore you no longer count each individual decision. You simply have become the law of decision unto the will of God itself. This, my beloved, is a state of consciousness, as the sword Excalibur fashioned for the service of light.

The Knighting of Certain Souls of Light

I desire to use this sword for the knighting of certain souls of light who have served by excellence on the staff of the messenger and in our field of endeavor. And I make known to you, then, that at inner levels these considerations for appointment are being reviewed.

Beloved ones, in the past, through our messenger Mark, we have anointed some to the office of knighthood, which is indeed an office of chelaship. And do you know, in reviewing those lists we have seen that those who received the increment of light of knighthood, a number of them are no longer even a part of this community. And may I say that our understanding of the necessity for the teaching of souls—the reinforcement of teaching, the constancy of that teaching—has become crystal clear in the light of the intensity of the opposition to the very condition of knighthood.

And therefore initiation is the transfer of a light, and in this case it is the light of the Mother flame, hence the light of the base-of-the-spine chakra. The increase of that purity merely affords opportunity for greater discipline in love. Beloved ones, therefore we have not so easily passed the torch of that increment of light but we have preferred first to see the quality of our chelas mount. And thus, today those candidates being considered far exceed the worth of those who before received an opportunity and a flame from your messenger.

The understanding of the progressive revelation of God must be seen, then, as ever abounding and descending through all levels of hierarchy. We will then make it known to you who among you we will call forth to bear a greater light of the Mother flame.

Now, then, I say, let souls of light tarry with me in these coming weeks at Camelot to keep a flame and to study in the first vibrations of dedication that come forth from all levels of hierarchy.

A Giant Etheric Transformer of Light

We delight, then, in the efforts to set forth the statement of Church Universal and Triumphant, the statement of purpose, the statement of the plan. And this statement will be coming to you by individual couriers of light, who will explain to you what is that soul-raising, fundraising campaign for victory in the Holy Spirit, victory in the Holy City, victory in the light of the sun that we have even so inspired upon the board of this organization.

This is our thrust for a purpose in these coming months—that heart to heart, candle flame by candle flame, you will come to study and to understand the meaning of our cause. It is indeed initiation passed from the Guru to the chela, to each individual soul of light. And these initiations, then, are for the setting of a soul-design, not for you alone but for all lightbearers upon earth.

As I have dedicated that booklet that you will be studying,<sup>3</sup> I have written to you a letter in which I have made known the great miracle of the transformer, which so many years ago I established at our focus at Beacon's Head, Virginia.<sup>4</sup> There I placed upon the altar of God a jewel given to me by one I adore, and that jewel placed there was the collateral for my plan presented to the Lords of Karma.

And it was this: that a giant transformer of God's will, focusing the light of Hercules and Archangel Michael and myself, might have the power to multiply the action of the decree momentum of the lightbearers and enhance light's service throughout the planetary body. And by the momentum of the transformer, it would accomplish a very necessary purpose in the movement of our light from the East unto the West.

In the order of that movement, the necessity of the passing of the torch from our beloved Mark to our beloved Elizabeth was the consideration. Yet this fullness of the plan was not made known to our messengers in that hour when they stood together and watched as angelic hosts actually put together a giant etheric transformer of light and saw me standing upon that altar and that platform, even as you see me with your soul as I am before you. And I made known to you in that hour that when 50 percent of the purpose to which that transformer was established, then there would be returned to me that jewel of light,<sup>5</sup> and then we could move onward unto the victory.

Our Gratitude Is Boundless

Now it was, then, that with the fulfillment not only of the purchase of Camelot but of the necessary funds for the fulfillment of this cycle and of the putting together of the divine plan and the very alchemy, and numerous efforts completed just shortly before this conference by yourselves and by our staff, that in actuality, 50 percent of the purpose to which that transformer had been established was fulfilled.

[12-second applause]

This included the ascension of our messenger<sup>6</sup> and the establishment of our Mother of the Flame within the center of the circle of devotees. The stability of her life and her very being—we are certain of a fact and a truth—we owe in large measure to your very selves and to the rings upon rings of fire that in love you have established in the support of our cause. For this we say our gratitude is boundless, for it rebounds across a cosmos and returns to uplift each gentle heart and soul.

There was also the necessary staying action of the LORD God for the descent of a karma that would have resulted in a serious interruption of the flow of this economy and perhaps resulting in social cataclysm itself. There was the need for the establishment of Summit University. There was the requirement of the passing of the torch of Lord Gautama Buddha on New Year's Eve 1972, in preparation for the ascension of the beloved Mark. And you know that the passing of that torch was the passing of a torch of illumination and of a vast mission to illumine the earth's children. And see how the fruits of this have been established at Summit University, at Montessori International, and in so many outreach programs taken upon yourselves by your very selves.

I could go on and on as you have seen the tide of world events, almost inevitable in their downward course, suddenly be slowed or stayed or turned around until many who are making the predictions upon earth in this hour wonder why certain events have not already occurred. And they, many of them, do confess that it is surely by the grace of Almighty God himself, and only by that grace.

The Cosmic Thrust for a Purpose

Therefore, the announcement that I bring to you is that I have established that transformer congruent with the Ashram of the World Mother in downtown Los Angeles for the next fulfillment of the cosmic thrust for a purpose, which is deliberately for the saving of the cities of this nation and every nation upon earth.

And, beloved ones, because that precious stone of attainment is returned to me,<sup>7</sup> so you as my chelas have afforded me the opportunity to use it again for the next dispensation granted by the Cosmic Council [applause], and thereby you have earned for yourselves another opportunity for the acceleration of light. These opportunities, when you are in the service of the Brotherhood, count for all and for everything.

My gratitude is to our chelas serving as the staff of the messengers and as the laborers in the field."
