

Beloved Jesus the Christ

The Perfectionment of Cosmic Purpose

Joy to the world! For the leap from nativity unto the ascension is a swiftly flying arrow of radiant purpose. How well I know the way. Yet mankind, in their groping and sense of struggle, reach out again and again with a thrust of hope in order to secure for themselves in the domain of life a triumphant gesture that will hold not only symbolic worth but also attainment.

The stream of life flows, and in its flow turns the wheel of the mill to grind the grain finely and to refine the soul of each individual, that the monadic consciousness may be purified and come to the divine image.

The flow of life is experienced by all, but many souls do not sense the reality of attainment. They know not what they seek, and their energy goeth forth in vain spurts of endeavor to produce that which cometh to naught, for it is framed in vanity.

Joy to the world! For the leap from nativity unto the ascension is a swiftly flying arrow of radiant purpose.

How well I know the way. Yet mankind, in their groping and sense of struggle, reach out again and again with a thrust of hope in order to secure for themselves in the domain of life a triumphant gesture that will hold not only symbolic worth but also attainment.

The stream of life flows, and in its flow turns the wheel of the mill to grind the grain finely and to refine the soul of each individual, that the monadic consciousness may be purified and come to the divine image.

The flow of life is experienced by all, but many souls do not sense the reality of attainment. They know not what they seek, and their energy goeth forth in vain spurts of endeavor to produce that which cometh to naught, for it is framed in vanity.

Now, modern disciples in this contemporary age, hear our voice! The voice of one crying in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make straight his path,"¹ is at this moment most significant. For all that has gone before—the total endeavor of the humanities and the gods, so to speak—is brought to fruition in ye all. And if the chain would break at this hour, the endeavors of the children of light, the stream of radiant avatars down through the ages, would, for mankind to follow, be in vain.

Ye are a part of a vast and moving whole, that moving onward seeks to bestow the grace of God upon a planetary orb so that it may reflect the light of ten thousand suns and garnish the lives of over three billion lifestreams with the perfectionment of cosmic purpose.

Man responds and says, "Some are able and some are unable." We say, each man, according to his consciousness and level of attainment, is able to utilize the talents bestowed upon his lifestream in the service of cosmic purpose.

Heaven does not measure one man by another's attainment, but each is weighed in the balance of self-grace and self-comprehension, of self-utilization, of self-attainment. Man is not judged for that which he has not been given, but he is judged for that of which he is made a steward. And therefore all are able to contribute, in a great outreach for service to humanity, something of cosmic worth that enables them to hold onto the torch of moving service and raise it into prominence in this day and age.

The Manifestation of the Kingdom of God within the Individual Heart

Communism has its adherents by the score, by the millions. They are devoted to the purposes of communal effort, to feed the hungry, and to pursue political ideals of service. We are concerned with a kingdom for all ages and without end. We are concerned with the manifestation of the kingdom of God within the individual monadic heart and with the expansion of that kingdom to the four corners of the earth. We are concerned with the healing of the planetary body and its manifestation of its own self-implanted, cosmic luminosity.

You may say, "Why self-implanted?" It is because every grain of sand was given an innate intelligence, which is a portion of cosmic blueprint for that specific focalization in time and space. The consciousness of God within substance is also within the consciousness of mankind, and mankind come thus so nigh unto our Father that they utilize moment by moment his energy to think, to feel, and to serve.

Yet no man can serve two masters.² And thus those who serve the synagogue of Satan will reap the reward of their service to darkness, as the seeds of darkness sprout ever-new concepts of nihilism in order to annihilate, seemingly, cosmic purpose and to bring to naught the beautiful purposes of life, which I stand for and which is the radiance not only of this moment but of eternity captured in it.

Hold forth a light.
 Hold forth my hope.
 Hold forth the truth.
 By Christ invoke
 The mantle of eternal day,
 The life perfection of my ray.

O be at peace and know
 I shall break the forces mortals hold.
 Produce perfection, purest gold,
 Refined by fire, transcending all.
 O answer now, for I do call:

Come ye out from among them
 And be a separate people unto the LORD.³
 Come out from among them
 By the power of my Word.
 Come out from among them
 And take your stand.
 Come out, come out, into our band.

The One Is All. The All Is One.

The Spirit of the Great White Brotherhood, O gracious ones, is an endeavor of perfectionment that goeth back, as Job said of old, to the great cosmic home in the Pleiades.⁴

There, where we hold the consciousness of the Elohim sacred, where archangels and archeiai do plait a crown of life for Cosmic Christ, we uphold the traditions from which ageless beauty descends into the consciousness that, like a chalice or a flower of receptivity, would receive our grace, which is the grace of the One.

The One is All. The All is One. The divisions beneath the sun are created by those of the unfortunate, negative Illuminati, who desire to spread abroad the satanic delusions of sense consciousness, the superiority of intellect, and the error of their ways.

We stand today, as through the ages, to produce the miracle of Cosmic Christ love in the hearts of all who will open the door and let flow that love through their consciousness. And there is no intellectual argumentation that would ever for one moment cause mankind to bear faith in it, nor is there any power in the universe whatsoever that can destroy the faith of the child of the light who holds within that chalice of his heart the radiance of the Eternal.

We say, then, let mankind empty themselves that they may be filled. Let them empty themselves of self-knowledge, of delusion, of confusion, of concepts untried and unproven. And let them understand the meaning of receptivity, now to accept in this the day of salvation the fountain of cosmic energy that bursts from their heart as the striving toward perfection and hope.

The Garment of Illusion Called Dogma

The hope of the ages is born anew in you moment by moment. This is the timeless gift of the ages. It is the penetration of the darkness by the eternal light. It is the raising up of man, even as Moses raised up the brazen serpent in the wilderness,⁵ that man may be raised up to his own God-estate.

For down through the ages the princes of darkness have woven a schema. They have created a garment of illusion. They have called it “dogma.” They have made it confusing. They have created many facets of that dogma, and it is all intended to debase mankind, to create feelings within the hearts of men of inadequacy, to create feelings of darkness, to create feelings of pain and separation from the Presence of Life.

All of this I came to dispel, and I come to dispel it this day by the light of the eternal Presence. I come to remove it by the light that penetrates each individual who will accept it, and I saith unto him, thou art a beloved son of God.

And as your elder brother, I say unto you, accept the gift of your own Divine Presence! Accept the reality of God that changeth not! Accept the reality of God that is no blot! Accept the reality of God, that on this spot, as every other, will hallow you right where you are and cause you to understand that it is but a matter of time before all the energy of the princes of darkness shall be put down and the light shall stand supreme to garb every man in the reality of God’s dream for him, God’s hope for him, God’s purpose for him, God’s intention of ushering in the kingdom.

The Brilliant Star That Shone at My Birth

The brilliant star that shone at my birth, then, was indeed a whole radiance of light that was intended to be dispersed over the planet round and to create everywhere the comprehension of the victory of life—that right where man is, God is; that right where God is, the manifestation must occur of victory over darkness.

The voice of one crying in the wilderness, then, “Prepare ye the way of the Lord,” is indeed an utterance of the perfectionment of the Word that denies the power of sin and breaks the bonds of Satan’s kin.

Was it not said of old and did I not even say it unto those hypocrites in those days, “Ye are of your father the devil, for he was a murderer from the beginning”?⁶

And I say to you today that the powers of darkness have lied unto mankind and have told them of all the wickedness and of the deceit and of the shame that mankind have practiced. And the karmic record has clearly declared it! Yet this is not real! This is not life! This is not hope! This is not strength! This is not unity! This is not purpose! This is not life! This is death!

It is destruction. It is negation. It is shadow. It is unreal. And in its place stands the victory of every lifestream, which cometh not by some thaumaturgical process or some miracle of human magic, but it comes by acknowledgment of man’s own victory and cosmic purpose—the acknowledgment of life that lives as Christ, that walks as Christ, that holds its hope up in the world and in the face of life and flings that hope into the teeth of the dragons of darkness and shame.

Let men understand, then, that the fire-breathing entities that come forth charged with the vibratory action of destruction to mankind—to spread the malice of mischief to mankind, to create gossip, to create destruction, to create ideas of confusion—have no power.

For the triumph of my birth is also accomplished in each individual monad as that individual prepares his heart to become a chalice for the eternal light to shine, that in the darkness the great light would shine and illumine the darkness that is in man—the externalized darkness that mankind have builded span by span, brick by brick, and mold by mold—imperfect concepts turning mankind away from the perfection of the golden rule and causing them to be, in many cases, what man has claimed is “the perfect fool.”

The Boundaries of Infinity Are within Your Grasp

Now, then, I say unto you as I said of old, call no man a fool,⁷ for God is in him and God is not fooled by the traduction of mankind that has destroyed him and his efforts and has destroyed the purposes of God within him.

Now let us turn man inside out and restore him to his pristine state. Let us see the babe of Bethlehem formed within him. Let us see it as light-rays-transcendent flooding into his consciousness and filling his heart with hope, with joy, with peace, with security, with the power to cast out demons in my name and with the power to reign triumphant over all of the darkness that man has claimed and gathered together as though it were indeed a treasure to be held. And I say unto ye all that the treasure of life, the treasure of immortality is that which puts an end to all strife and restores peace.

I am called he who actually is “the boundary maker,” and I come to you today to say that the boundaries of infinity are within your grasp when you understand the purpose and the mold in which you were originally cast—a mold of God-like perfection. And a golden-rule tool was handed to you all that you might take the measure of every thought and word and deed and gauge it by its elements of perfection and its power of discrimination. God speed you on your way to Christ perfectionment and peace.

Let All Assemble beneath the Banner of the Law of the One

*Lo, I AM with you now! Lo, I AM with you always.*⁸ Lo, my kingdom cometh into manifestation in the newborn sons, the children of the Sun, the freeborn, the brothers of the Elder One and the brothers of the elder ones.

Let us go down now, and let us make man in our image and after our likeness.⁹ Let us also create a garden of beauty and perfection like unto our consciousness, and let us embellish mankind with the beauty of that garden, surrounding their every sense and perception.

Let us bring to their vision all of the beauty and perfectionment that we have ever held and known, and let us gather it from the four corners of the universe and bestow it upon these that are made in our image and after our likeness. And the LORD God breathed into the dust of the earth, and man became a living soul.¹⁰

Now let us make this living soul whole! Let us make it perfect! Let us enlarge the boundaries of it! Let us reach out and span the stars and the universe! And let love be without dissimulation!

Let none be carried away by division and by minor moot points, but let all assemble beneath the banner of the one law of life, the universal law of oneness—the Law of the One, the Law of the One, the Law of the One! I AM that law in action in ye all!

Thank you. And may this Christmas Day be a day triumphant, a landmark in your lives when cosmic effort was communicated from heaven to earth, when the voices of the ages created a concept of cosmic worth in your consciousness and blessed you with it—the crown of gold, the frankincense of sweet adoration, and the myrrh of purpose unfulfilled, fulfilling itself in time and space and life and place. Right where I AM, there ye are.

Peace be unto you.
